Student Life

Are You Odd Or Even? What's your ATTITUDE like? To some who feel they, themselves are in the "IN" group believe all others are ODD. While the people who may not necessarily be involved in many activities hardly look at themselves as being ODD. Everything is ATTITUDE and OPINION. Everything concerns someone's opinion or attitude about someone or something. Many times people consider this "CLIQUE". But, that is what makes the world go round.

In this edition of the Delphian we've captured all sorts of ATTITUDE and "CLIQUE".

This section People and Student Life we have captured EVERYTHING!! And, we know that going to certain events such as the Homecoming Dance, Hanging out at Taco Bell or Burger King, going to School Concerts, Summer pastimes and Prom all build ATTITUDE. These activities also determine who is in the "IN Crowd". These people usually begin to "Cop" an ATTITUDE with whom ever they please.

But, whoever you are and whatever you do, your ATTITUDE is important. That is what builds the character of our school.

FULL Of SPIRIT....The Quaker fans show their spirit at the big Phila - Dover Game. Although the Quakers came up short for a victory, the crowd enthusiasm encouraged the team.

I DO.....Seniors Valarie Brick and Brian Loibl enjoy their first dance as a "married couple", in Mrs. Shirley Cerett's Family Life Class.

Lounging Around

Summer

The lazy days of summer don't exist for most people anymore. Sure, some kids take the summer and sleep until noon or later or crawl out of bed at about 10:30 a.m. and go outside to sleep in the sun but most people put their summer to good use.

A fair amount of high school students go out and get jobs. The job may be flipping burgers at a fast food joint, selling merchandise to people who can af-amusements parks visited on various vacations. Then again, the money may get put away for a college education or a car depending on the person.

Some people give up their summer for school related activities. The most popular of these is football, cross country, girls' tennis, volleyball, cheerleading, and QT's. All these people put in hard practices so that when school starts they are at the peak of their performances. Summer camps, attended by different groups and individuals, help to achieve these perfections.

Messing around at the park on the basketball and tennis courts on a decent day are also popular summer activities. We positively cannot forget the dip in the pool to cool off or the time spent on the beach soaking up the sun while people watching before an evening of partying.

Summer is a time filled with very important engagements that range from sleeping, sunning, and partying to learning, practicing, and working and everything in between that.

Hooping it up before summer comes to an end, senior Adam Bleining attempts a slam dunk in preparation for his last season at N.P.H.S.

Another Great Year at the...

County Fair

The 1989 Tuscarawas County Fair was just as exciting as last year. Although there was a loss of a few of the major attractions, a thrill still filled the air. A look in one direction and you could see the majority of the food stands and games. A peak in the opposite direction and you could find the many animals and displays carefully taken care of by their owners.

Congratulations are in order to the hard working 4-H members who spent many long months preparing for their individual competitions. Whether they showed animals, put up displays, or participated in any other important activities, they helped make this year's fair pleasurable for its many attendants.

The fair lasted the normal six days, but only a few of those days people could show up in comfortable attire. Tuesday through

"This year the fair was an experience that I will never forget. It was the third time that I have had a champion steer. Even though the worst part of the fair was having to say good-bye to my steer, I always have to remember that in a few weeks I will start all over again, with a new steer."

-Junior Lynne Wise

Thursday people were most often seen wearing T-shirts and shorts. On the past biggest day of the week, Friday, the weather was against us and it poured down rain. The nice warm weather changed again for Saturday and Sunday and winter jackets were seen walking from group to group huddling to keep warm.

The chilly air didn't stop the spectators from showing up to the exciting conclusion of the 1989 county fair, the demolition derby. The stands were filled and Hoorays and Boos were heard all over the grounds.

The fair was, as always, a place that everyone can go and enjoy themselves. From walking and seeing the displays and animals, to standing in line for the rides, to looking for friends from all over the county, the Tuscarawas County Fair was fun for all.

Quakers Lose in Final Seconds...

Homecoming

the game, it was very exciting. I liked being with all of my friends at the dance, we had a fun time."

-Sophomore, Gary Mason

As the second half began, spirits were still high in the hopes of a victory. The Quakers and the Blue Streaks both missed opportunities to score. The clock in the final quarter was running down and still no one had scored. Then, with only 14 seconds left on the clock, Lake made a touch-down. The surprised and disappointed Quakers knew the game was over. The NP football team had tried their best. Even though many people were less than happy about the loss, the dance was now a priority in everyone's mind.

"JUNGLE LOVE" was the theme of this year's Homecoming dance. Monkeys, giraffes, palm trees, jungle hats, and bananas could be seen around the dance floor as one walked into the New Philadelphia Elks. The laughing and chattering got increasingly louder as people crowded the floor. The night turned out to be a total success as happy couples danced the night away in the middle of their own jungle.

Quakers, Quakers let's here you yell; QUAKERS. The cheerleaders and the students are heard cheering the NPHS varsity football team to the wanted Homecoming victory against Lake. The team was confident as the pep rally continued. When the short rally ended, the students and players left the school with their hopes high.

The game was a tough and long battle for the Quakers. With each team still scoreless at the end of the first half.

The traditional half time activities were as exciting as always. The climax of the festivities, the crowning of the Queen, finally arrived. Sarah Tope was crowned the 1989 Homecoming Queen. Although everyone was thrilled to see her win, their attention soon turned back to the game.

A Long and Tough Battle...

Phila/Dover Game

Dover and Phila had alot of spirit and our school pulled together for the game.

-Senior, Orvis Campbell

The pre-game spirit seemed higher this year than usual. That's a lot to say considering the Phila/Dover rivalry has taken place 85 times and each year almost every student does their best to show their enthusiasm.

Throughout the week, preceding the big game, NPHS students were seen roaming the halls as farmers, wearing clothes that were inside out, and dressing like the opposite sex. Even nerds invaded Phila for a day, as did tons of trick-or-treaters. On Friday, the school was clustered with red and black as the students displayed our school colors with Quaker pride.

This year there was also a revised spirit ribbon sale, promoting class unity in-

I think the week was just as exciting as it was in the past because both rest of the student body, cheered around the roaring flames. Although it was a cold night, everyone kept warm by the burning fire and their high spirits.

Thursday night brought the spaghetti dinner and the community pep rally. The wonderful meal, sponsored by the senior class, was enjoyed by all that attended. The community pep rally was packed as usual. Cheering filled the gymnasium as the football team entered. The Delphi-an Chorale, the QT's, and the band, all had great performances.

Friday's afternoon pep rally brought the most enthusiasm of all. Students from all grades of the junior high and high school filled our gym. The team was cheered on with encouraging words from faculty members and fellow team mates. Seniors Trevor Furbay and Danielle Pompey were announced as the winners of the legs contest. The theme "The Day After" gave the juniors a win in the hall decorating contest and homeroom 326 won the door decorating contest with the theme of "Nail 'Em Down". The pep rally continued to raise the spirits of everyone. The cheerleaders and the student council both performed amusing skits. As the students left the pep rally, there was a confident feeling in everyone's hearts.

As the game began, things looked bright for the Quakers. We scored our first touchdown early in the game. We scored again and by half time we had a large lead over Dover. Unfortunately things began to turn around for New Philadelphia in the second half. Dover was on the comeback trail and soon they had taken the lead. The Quakers tried their hardest to regain their lead. It was too late though and Dover won. Always, New Philadelphia had given the game their best effort and next year they will have the chance to beat Dover like they have in the past.

Their Side of the Story...

Phila vs Dover

New Philadelphia and Dover always spend a week peping up their team for the exciting game, against their biggest rival. For almost 80 years, the Delphian yearbook has told the New Philadelphia side of the story, but what happens across the river? How much different are the Tornadoes from the Quakers? This year we set out to see what goes on at Dover during the biggest week of the year.

Monday at Dover was a little interesting. DHS students dressed to the theme "Mash 'em and Trash 'em". Trash bags and army clothes marched around their high school. Back at Phila, hicks roamed our halls. "Head for the Hills" was our theme for the day, and many students prepared to send Dover to the hills.

Students wearing all black and carrying flashlights for Tuesdays theme "Out Shine Phila" walked through Dover. Lights in some halls and classes were turned off for the day to help promote their theme. Phila students "Turned the Tables on Dover" that same day. Guys dressed as gals and gals dressed as guys. Some people simply turned their clothes inside out or put their jeans on backwards. No matter how they dressed that day, NPHS spirit soared.

On Wednesday, Dover decided they would "Plow over Phila" and wore flannel shirts, bibs, and boots. Some students even brought their pet cows to school that day. But the Quakers imated the Tornadoes by dressing as "A Herd of Nerds". One can only imagine what entered the Phila doors that morning.

Thursday, Dover students dressed up to "Out-class Phila" by wearing formal dresses and suits. NP also dressed up that day, but instead setout to "Haunt Dover". Everything usually unexpected was expected in every Phila class on Thursday.

Thursday night was the big pep night for both teams as Dover held their traditional snake dance and bon fire. NPHS's bon fire was Wednesday night in order to provide more time for the community pep rally and spaghetti dinner.

Friday was definately the most spirited day for both Dover and New Philadelphia. At DHS, red and gray filled each classroom and the halls were colorfully decorated in their school colors. Red and Black colored NPHS, and each class creatively disguised their halls, contining to help pep up the Quakers.

DHS Sophomore, Casey Smith Trashes em' for part of Monday's theme. Trash bags floated through Dover's halls that day.

New Philadelphia and Dover are not that much different during this big week. Each school has a goal; to have fun and win! MAY THE BEST TEAM WIN.

Class A Champs

Marching Band

MBA Grand Nationals was the final step in the Marching Quakers successful season. At the Hoosier Dome in Indianapolis, Indiana with a crowd of 30,000 people, the Marching Quakers, one the smallest bands to compete, captured their class A championship.

This came after a long season that began when many high school students were still on vacation. In August the band had long hot practices along with a week of band camp.

When the band began its competition season at Marlinton in early October, they received awards for best flags, rifles, Class AA 1st, and Grand Champion. This was to be their first of many 1st place finishes. On October 17, at the MBA competition at Morgantown, West Virginia, the band took 1st place in class A as well as best music, and best general effect. At the MBA Kings Island regional the band again received awards for best music, general effect, best auxiliary, and class A champs.

These were the high points for the Marching Quakers which gave them the confidence to perform at the Grand Nationals along with 60 other bands to go for the class A division title. On November 17 late in the evening after the 14 finalist bands performed, New Philadelphia was honored to be named class A champion.

They were welcomed back to New Phila. by a caravan of cars from well wishers and family and friends. A long season ended on a very happy note.

"While I was waiting for our placement after finals, I felt nervous because that had been my last performance and I wanted it to be the best one, because it was my senior year."

Santa Season ...

Christmas Parade

The smell of snow, thoughts of sugar-plums, and sales at area stores struck in full force along with Santa Claus at the annual Christmas parade on Saturday November 25. Although there wasn't any snow, spirits soared as people lined the streets of downtown New Philadelphia for a glimpse of holiday sights.

"Being the First Town Days first runner-up, I get a great chance to travel and ride in other parades but our Christmas parade is very special because I get to see the people I represent."

-Senior Kirstin McGarry

Sights weren't the only thing that people were after that day. Sounds, not like cars backfiring or children playing in the middle of the street, were expected by the spectators. High school bands and the harmonious singing of the N.P.H.S. choir greeted the ears of area citizens, young and old, on the sidelines. Of course, lots of "oohs" and "ahhs" mixed in with the music as people saw pretty sights.

Starting in New Philadelphia, the parade contained queens, floats advertising different business, cheerleaders, bands, Santa Claus, and cars with signs representing various organizations that exist within the county. As happens with all successful events, this parade gets bigger and better every year.

Making his first official appearance of the season, Santa Claus rides in a replica of his magical flying sleigh in the parade.

Cheaper by the Dozen

N.P.H.S. Drama

The music inside the auditorium was 1920's jazz. Students were in the hallway upstairs getting their make-up done and snapping at everyone else. Mr. Gardner, the director, was running around checking make-up and costumes, making sure all of the lights were working, answering questions, and overseeing the ticket sales. Pretty soon all the confusion died down, the lights blinked to inform everyone in the audience to find a seat, and the auditorium went dark. The fall drama club production, Cheaper by the Dozen, was beginning.

The curtain was lifted and sixteen nervous actors settled into the role of a Gilbreth family member or someone who visits the Gilbreth home. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbreth, played by Doug McCahill and Jeannine Porter, are the parents of twelve children. Mr. Gilbreth is constantly bringing up projects to be done by the children to cut down on wasted time. One such example is the purchase of victrolas with French and German records to be played in the bathroom so that the children learn to conjugate verbs, if nothing else, subconsciously.

"I was worried that I would miss a cue or the lightboard would start to have fits."

As the play went on, there weren't any mistakes other than the occasional tongue twister causing a mispronounced word. There weren't any mistakes out of T.G., the "five dollar dog", who was constantly found sleeping on Mr. Gilbreth's bed.

The audience gave plenty of good responses to what was going on on stage. They laughed at humorous statements, clapped when it was appropriate, took plenty of pictures, and gave a standing ovation when the entire cast was on stage after the play was over. The lobby after each performance was filled with well wishers giving praise and hugs.

A Brand New Start ...

Freshmen

As the class of '93 makes a new beginning with high school, they find that it isn't as easy as it looks. They do have some help from their class advisors and officers. Class advisors this year were Mr. Thompson and Mr. Banks. Class officers were President Kitti Hykes; Vice President Nathan Agar; Treasurer Sharon Hagopian; Secretary Ellen Swigart; and Historian Angelica Arejola.

The class of '93 regularly sold popcorn at varsity/reserve boys and girls basketball games. Another fundraiser was class dues.

The theme for the freshmen hall during Phila-/Dover week was 'Take Stock in a Phila Win.'

Being a freshman is not always as easy as it seems, but knowing the right people and being involved in school activities can really help. Some responses to varied questions showed some freshmen's true feelings toward high school. "I thought high school would be harder, with more people and harder classes, plus a lot more things to do and to have more fun, than jr. high and it is" - Carrie Edwards

As high school continued on, freshmen either found it easier or more difficult to grasp the idea of high school.

We're Halfway Through...

The class of 1992 is a lot like all the other sophomore classes ahead of them. Preparing to drive, dating, harder classes, and trying to make the Varsity teams, take up much of each students time.

The class officers for the 1989-90 school year are: President Gary Mason; Vice President April Campbell; Secretary Jim Vickers; Treasurer Caryn Harter; and Historian Manish Shah. Each officer has an important job, and they spend many hours leading the class in its activities.

For Phila/Dover week, many sophomores worked together to come up with a hall theme. The final idea "The Heat is on Dover" worked well. Devils covered the hall and added to the Phila spirit.

A one time class fee was paid this year by all sophomores. This was to help the class catch up so they will have enough money to set up next year's prom. Also to raise money, at every basketball game, two sophomores sold pop at the pop stand.

The spirit of the class of 1992 grows as each sophomore realizes that he or she is only two years away from graduating.

An experience you'll never forget... Driving

Driving is an exciting but scary first adventure. First, there is Driver's Ed and getting your permit. Next, you have to learn to drive and finally, taking your test! All of them are complicated, nerveracking, frightening, and FUN!

The stories that are told about knocking over cones, failing the permit test, and running a red light during the test can be hysterical. But let's get it directly from the mouths of a few sophomores who have had some interesting experiences on the road.

"The first time I was on the road, with my permit, I was very scared. But the next thing I knew was off the road: stuck in the snow!" - Tammy Bigler

"I was driving along Church Ave. when I stopped at a stop sign, and slowly pulled out onto Broadway when all of a sudden, I ran into a big gray car with a 50 year old lady. She kept going and ripped my bumper off and I permanently shut her right passenger door. I lost my license for 25 days and she got a new paint job." - JJ Schumacher

"I was driving down to Tusky one day and it was icy when all of the sudden a deer ran out onto the road and I slammed on the brakes to miss the deer and we did two 360's in the road and ended up in a ditch." -Mark Gwinn

"I was driving along the road with some friends. We were waving at some guy who was yelling at us. We went back and he punched and busted my back window." -Gerrick Stevens

This year's Junior class is very busy. They won the Phila-/Dover week hall decorating contest. The concession stand at the home basketball games is run by the juniors and they are getting ready to plan this year's prom with the money from their past fundraisers. Jen Lile is the class president, Janet Baumer is the vice president, Terra Colvin is the secretary, and Matt Morgan is the treasurer.

Juniors Trying Hard to... Work

Working. No one really wants to think about it, but usually sometime during your junior year it is time to get a job. Whether you are getting a job because you have to or because you just want the extra money, working can be an experience. Here are some working juniors to explain a little more:

"I like working because I work with fun people and everyday something interesting would happen." - Terra Colvin, Tuscora Park

"I like where I work because I'm with my friends." - Nikki Byers, Italy's Best

"I didn't have much trouble finding a job because my friends told me about it." - Heather Knisely, Tuscora Park

"When they want to close the store out at closing time they just call me out with my cart and I run the people out of the store!" - Jeff McClish, Elder Beerman

We Have Come To An End...

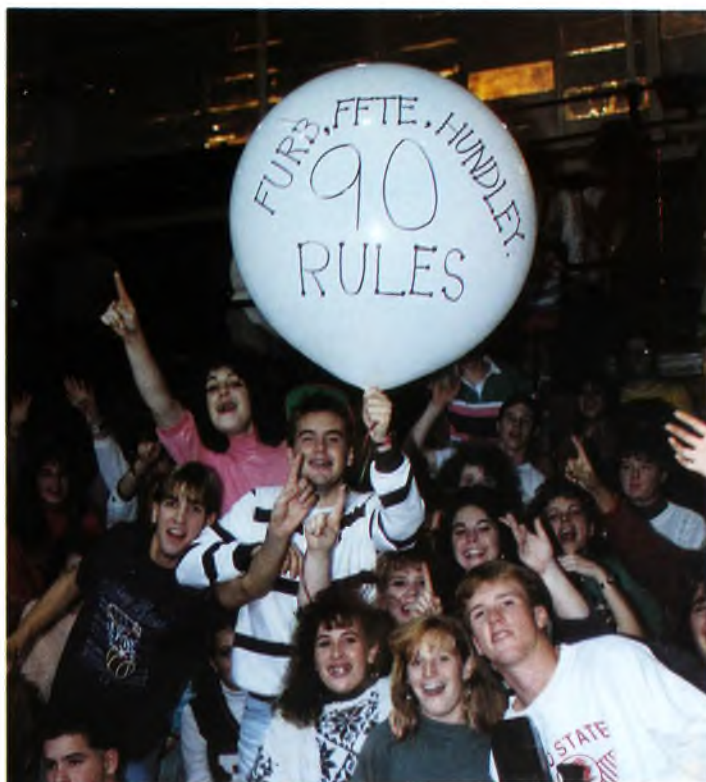

Seniors

The class of 1990 has had a very successful four years at NPHS. As Seniors, the class officers were: President-Gabe Richmond, Vice President-Geoff Harriman, Treasurer-Stacy Fete, Secretary-Vicky Stephans, Historian-Tara Hundley, and Floor Chairperson-Tammy Dorsey. This year, their hall theme "Rat - a - Tat, We've got the Bat" claimed second place at the Phila-Dover pep rally. All in all, the Senior Class of 1990 has been enjoyable for all.

Trisha Hunt and Trevor Furbay display their class's theme during Phila-Dover Week.

The Final Trip...

Cedar Point

Seniors wearing shorts and summer tops or jeans and sweat-shirts took over Cedar Point for their next to last event. Mother Nature isn't very kind with her overcast skies and cold winds, but that didn't stop students from having fun.

Cedar Point will be memorable for me because it was the last time our entire class could do anything together. Even though it was cold, we had a nice banquet and a fun day."

-Senior Anna Ludwig

Cedar Point offered a little something for everyone. The giant roller coasters and other various rides drew most of the attention. Some students enjoyed the tempting food from the vendors, the numerous shops, and the petting zoo. Still some people preferred to watch friends and classmates get whipped around, wet, and possibly even turn a little green. Most everyone enjoyed the banquet and awards as much as the rides.

The traditional senior trip to Cedar Point is an event that is looked forward to for many years by students and the teachers appear to like it too. Everyone should attend the trip and look forward to it as a freshman.

Senior Heather Miller looks surprised at the thought of being locked up.

Seniors Mike Green and Rusty Kinsey prepare themselves for the Best and Most awards.

While waiting to get in to the banquet, seniors Jennifer Llewellyn, Deana Edwards, Debbie Mutti, Marcia Cerana, Shelley Hill, Anna Ludwig, Kara Thompson, and Debbie Finzer show off their personalized sailor's hats.

Mr. Miller, Mr. Roman, Mr. Tidrick, Mr. Burnison, Mr. Watson, and Mr. Chaney enjoy the warmth and good food offered at the banquet.

While moving uphill at a slow pace, seniors Sara Scott, Christina Sarramian, Val Wallace, and Anne Rouhette show their anticipation for the first down hill of the Blue Streak.

Seniors Ryan Hicks and Tara Hundley huddle together for some extra warmth.

Senior Kirstin McGarry sports her Cedar Point souvenir, a large sombrero.

To demonstrate their driving abilities in style, seniors Crystal Miller and John Welch ride the antique cars.

Seniors Amanda Myers, Wendy Minard and Dee Gerber try to get warm.

The Beginning and the End...

Graduation

The 1990 Graduation ceremony took place on a beautiful but windy June 3rd at 2:00 at Quaker Stadium. While family and friends of the graduates looked on, Tri-Valedictorians, Bob Belknap, April Hagopian, and Charlie Simon and Salutatorian, Ray Swartzwelder, addressed their classes, giving their views of the last four years and what lies ahead for the class of 1990. The ceremony ended with the handing out of diplomas by school board members and the administration. This event signified the end of one era and the beginning of a new one.

Class Flower Red Rose
Class Colors Black & Gold
Class Motto Remember the rewards of today, the promises of tomorrow, and never forget yesterday, the memories of our past.

Board of Education President Rod Reese hands Senior Kim Denham her diploma.

The senior Honor Graduates Gabe Richmond, Amy Miller, Brett Mangon, Tiona Korn, Mike Dotts, Darci Gerber, Todd Dawson, Ray Swartzwelder, Charlie Simon, April Hagopian, and Bob Belknap are given recognition during the 1990 graduation at Quaker Stadium.

"Congratulations Benji!"
from Mom, Dad, & Marvin

"Receiving my diploma was the highlight of graduation. The addition of a beach ball made it very memorable."

-Senior Troy Belknap

Seniors Mike Robinson And Teresa Sablar prepare to board the bus to take them to Graduation.

Senior Tri-Valedictorian Charlie Simon addresses his classmates and gives his views on their future.

Class Adviser Marie Contini brings in Graduates to be: Seniors Melody Ennis, Tim Bouscher, Melissa Ford, Adam Bleining and Deana Edwards, to a windy Quaker Stadium.

Senior Kim Sullivan relaxes in the back of the bus as she is delivered to the stadium to receive her diploma.

Congratulations Graduates! We wish you all the best.

Hands on Training...

B. J. V. S.

Learning a skill in high school is why Buckeye Joint Vocational School exists. Deciding whether or not to attend Buckeye is a big decision. For many it is the only one to make during their sophomore year.

Buckeye offers a wide variety of classes, thirty-two to be exact. The classes range from Business Management to Cosmetology. A regular class load is not the essential purpose of Buckeye. One English class and a history class are the only academic courses required over a two year period. The rest of the day is spent in a laboratory or shop gaining practical experience.

"People think Buckeye is for illiterates, but it is not. Buckeye is really a good place to get hands-on training for a job in the near future."

-Senior Max Bechtel

The decision process about Buckeye is not a hasty one. Students are given the opportunity to discuss Buckeye with a guidance counselor and spend a day visiting the school. During the visitation an interested student can visit two shops that they are thinking about joining.

For some people, Buckeye is a waste of time. For others, vocational training is as important as the air we breathe.

Planning for the future ...

College Day

Juniors and seniors generally don't know what they want to do with their future except that they want to go to college. Some plan to go far, far away to experience life and some stay close to home. Many students get their ideas about exactly where to go after they talk to knowledgeable college representatives at College Day.

College Day took place in the gymnasium on November 8. Juniors and seniors from area schools were present for this event.

“Spending time with my friends and talking to college representatives made college day fun”

-Senior Jenny Best

Not only did this permit college related questions to be answered, but it permitted New Phila High students to associate with long time friends and arch rivals.

Numerous students would be lost when it came time to choose the right college if this opportunity weren't presented. It may not give you all the answers but it is a big help.

Students from many area schools talk with various college representatives.

Looking at booklets and talking, senior Tracey Miller and senior John Swinderman exchange ideas on college choices.

Senior Kirstin McGarry fills out an application to get more information from Kent State University.

Groups

What Group is "IN"? Everyone has their own opinion, but are you in that group? Probably so, at least in your own mind. Each and every one of us have an idea of what group and club has ATTITUDE. That is, the ATTITUDE that make it appealing for people to join.

Whether it is Student Council, at the Phila - Dover Pep Rally acting out a skit, or Concert Choir singing at the Barn Concert or Christmas Concert, or Cheerleaders, Q.T.'s drumming up spirit. You name it, they have got it! ATTITUDE!!!!

It does not matter what makes it appealing to you. The importance is that it is what you want to do, and that you have joined into the ATTITUDE formed by the Clubs and Groups.

Kaleidoscope Receives Bronze

Winter Guard

Kaleidoscope, the New Philadelphia High School Winter Guard unit was the High School Class A Champion of the Ohio Color Guard Circuit. The contest, held on March 24 & 25th at Wadsworth High School was the end of the season for our newly formed flag line, which finished sixth overall and our majorettes, which captured third place. Kaleidoscope then traveled to Buffalo, New York for the Winter Guard International World Championships. The guard, competing in A/HS Class was one of 52 participating in preliminary competition with only the top ten advancing into finals. Kaleidoscope finished third overall and received bronze medals. "The best part of guard was getting the chance to go to WGI olympics, after the fire, and competing against guards from all over the U.S. placing third."

- Senior Becky Jacoby

The guard was undefeated in Ohio Color Guard Circuit Competitions participating in Lexington, Northmont, North Royalton and Wadsworth. The guard is under the direction of Bill Graham, Mark Wells, Jeff Furby, Debbie Gow, and Cheryl Anne Graham.

QT's

The NPHS QT Pompon squad has had a very exciting season as they danced their way to success. To begin, the squad attended Universal Dance Association's Dance Camp at Akron University in July. Here, they placed first in overall performance. The squad earned 55 blue ribbons out of a possible 60 and every night they recieved a spirit stick. In individual competition, Nichole Zesiger placed first and Brandy Brown placed fourth in the Superstar Dance Competition. Also, as a squad, they qualified to attend a National Dance Competition in Orlando, Florida.

“Camp, making new friends and the pride and recognition we get when we achieve our goals are the best part of being a QT.”

-Junior Allyson Schlote

The squad also helped to spread school spirit and community spirit during Phila-Dover week. They tied ribbons around the street lamps and displayed red and black flags on the square. Besides performing at just football games, boy's basketball games, and pep rallies, the squad also helped to spread school spirit by performing at girl's basketball games and wrestling matches again this year.

Also, for the first time ever, the NPHS

QT's and the Dover Dance Factory performed together at the Phila-Dover boy's basketball games. The two squads had practices together and became friends. By doing this, the squads hoped to help unite the two schools. Under the direction of Donna Beitzel, the NPHS QT Pompon squad has strived to be their best.

Putting It All Together...

Delphian Staff

The production of the Delphian yearbook starts long before school even begins. During the summer, staff members for the upcoming year attend a three day yearbook camp to learn how to do layouts, and developing a theme for the upcoming year's book. Soon after camp the yearbooks from the past school year come in. The staff hands them out and then goes out into the community to sell ads which along with carnation sales, and picture days pay for the book's production.

“Working with students in different classes and producing a quality yearbook has made being on yearbook staff a most worthwhile experience.”

-Senior Jenny Best

When school starts, the staff usually practices what they learned at camp, getting ready for the real thing. Soon the page assignments are handed out and work begins.

Staff members work hard throughout the year meeting deadlines without much time off. But the Delphian staff takes a day off at least once a month for a birthday, holiday or for meeting a deadline.

As the year winds down the staff finishes up their layouts and ties up loose ends. Around the middle of June the annual staff banquet is held at the Tangiers, to celebrate the completion of the book. After this the staff enjoys a month and a half break until camp, and then it starts all over again.

Speech Team

Speech team enjoyed a successful season this year. Thirty-two students participated in competition. The team attended nine invitational and hosted their sixth Individual Events tournament in conjunction with the New Philadelphia Rotary, who sponsored the trophies. They also participated in the Canton District OHSSL tournament, Eastern Ohio National Forensic League district tournament and the OHSSL State Tournament.

Many placings were earned in competition this year. At the Canton Timken Novice tournament freshman Kitti Hykes earned first in foreign extemp.

During the morning assembly, Miss Tschudy speaks to participants at the New Phila tournament while senior Amy Miller waits to give her opening comments.

Freshman Kelly Gilmore placed second and junior Terra Colvin placed fourth in domestic extemp. In humorous freshman Corey Zickel earned second and junior Alvin Tanpoco earned third. Senior Allison Gipson placed third in prose/poetry. Duet acting juniors Amy Kochur and Bridget Lightbody placed first, juniors Jodie Reiss and Chris Schoelles placed third, and sophomores Stephanie Albright and Shawn Supers placed sixth. Junior Carl Peoples placed third and junior Beth Guida placed fourth in original. At the Massillon Washington tournament senior Amy Miller placed second.

Copley's tournament brought senior Amy Miller a second place in original. In prose/poetry at the Alliance tournament senior Allison Gipson placed first. Also, senior Amy Miller placed sixth in original. At the Louisville tournament juniors Jodie Reiss and Chris Schoelles placed sixth in duet acting.

"My favorite part of speech was meeting new people who had different ideas and individuality."

- Sophomore Shawn Supers

At the Canton District OHSSL tournament state qualifiers were junior Jeannine Porter in humorous, senior Allison Gipson in prose/poetry, and senior Amy Miller in original. Alternates were juniors Amy Kochur and Bridget Lightbody and juniors Katie Wherley and Allison Schlote in duet acting, sophomore Amy Stutz in prose/poetry, and freshman Kitti Hykes in foreign extemp. At the Eastern Ohio National Forensic League tournament senior Amy Miller placed seventh in original and freshman Kitti Hykes advanced to the semi-final round.

This year seventeen members were taken into the National Forensic League, the speech honorary. Senior Amy Miller was named the Outstanding Forensic member for the 1989-90 season.

This year's officers were senior Amy Miller as president, junior Jeannine Porter as vice president, junior Molly Errington, and sophomore Elyse Stratton as historian.

After the final round at the Fairmont-Kettering tournament, senior Allison Gipson and junior Jeannine Porter read a book while awaiting award announcements.

Never A Dull Moment...

Student Council

Dances and Games and Auction Night are only a few of the fun activities that the Student Council provides for the students. Student Council is a very active club at NPHS. Not only does the council sponsor many student activities, but it provides community services as well. Plus, Student Council helps to promote school spirit and plays a very active role during Phila-Dover Week.

"The reason that Student Council is so successful at NPHS is because everyone in it has leadership abilities and it's fun to participate in."

- Junior

Homecoming has always been a very anticipated activity that the Student Council does an exceptional job of organizing each year. This years theme was "Jungle Love" and they spent many hours preparing for the event. members even sacrificed their study halls to help prepare for Homecoming. This years Homecoming was, as always, a smashing success. Student Council also sponsors many after game dances in the cafeteria after basketball games. This gives students a chance to dance and have fun.

Charlie Simon and Brian Kinsey present the hall and door decorating awards at the Phila-Dover Pep Rally.

Share-A-Christmas is a very important event within our community and the Student Council plays an active role in this as well. Each year, the council sponsors a family and has a Share-A-Christmas dance to help raise money for this worthy cause.

Phila-Dover week is a most important week here at NPHS. Student Council sponsors door and hall decorating contests each year. They also help to promote school spirit by selling spirit ribbons and this year by holding the first "Best Legs Contest". Student Council also helps spread school pride throughout the whole school year by having special events.

Games and Auction Night, the overnight and the Mystery Lunch are also a few more of the fun activities that the council plans for the students. The officers this year were: PRESIDENT Brian Kinsey, VICE PRESIDENT-Charlie Simon, SECRETARY Stephanie Smith, TREASURER Jeannine Porter and HISTORIAN-Kristin Spinell. New Phila's Brightest Minds...

Scholar Challenge

The finest minds of New Phila High School come together to form this years undefeated Scholar Challenge team. The team began its trail of victory by winning team-team meets against Ridgewood, Dover and Central Catholic. Next, the team participated in the Ridgewood tournament, where they left as champions. Here, they defeated tough teams from St. Clairsville, Mari Valley, Ridgewood and Claymont. Finally, the NPHS Scholar Challenge team defended their title as county champions by defeating Dover, Indian Valley and Claymont, three times. From this, the team will receive a rotating plaque to be hung in the school, and each member will receive a thesaurus and a plaque. The team will next attend Regional Championships.

"Being on the Scholar

Challenge team for the past few years has been more enjoyable than I expected, and I'm very happy that we've done so well these past few years."

- Senior, Ray Swartz-

The team is advised by Mr. Miller and consists of New Phila High's brightest minds. Seniors are Ray Swartzwelder, Charlie Simon, Keith Bergman and April Hagopian. This years Juniors are Terra Colvin, Mark Fahner and Kurt Gowins. Finally, this years one Sophomore is Elyse Stratton. The team would also like to thank the New Phila Kiwanis Club for purchasing the new buzzer system. The 1990 Scholar Challenge team had a very successful, exciting and rewarding season by going undefeated thus far.

Mr. Miller accepts the team's trophy at the Ridgewood Tournament.

Work Opportunities...

Co-Op

There are three Co-Op programs at New Phila High School. For Freshmen there is O.W.A., these students do odd-jobs in the High School. O.W.E. is a work program in which students are able to work while they graduate from high school. Marketing Education is the third group. It teaches students marketing merchandising and sales skills, which will benefit them at a business or continuing their education at a college.

Center Stage...

Drama Club

A teenage boy portrays a father of twelve children and a teenage girl plays a florist. This is not just the vivid imagination of high school students, but rather a test of the acting ability of N.P.H.S.'s own in the drama club under the direction of Mr. Gardner.

This year the drama club performed "Cheaper by the Dozen" in the fall and "Little Shop of Horrors" in the spring. Both plays were well cast and well performed. In between the two plays, hand puppet shows were put on for third grade students to demonstrate different handicaps and a group of drama members did "Love Is a Hot Fudge Sundae", a one act play, in Akron at the 1990 Ohio Theatre Alliance Region 8 Play Festival where they received an excellent rating and Lee Zickel got an award for his ability.

Drama club members perform a one act play before an audience as a last dress rehearsal before going to competition.

Sports

Jocks! By the nature of the name you've got ATTITUDE! People "cop" an ATTITUDE, by thinking that jocks are the only people who play sports. That is not necessarily true. Everyone is in sports for one reason or another, and these form your ATTITUDE!

Each person from the first thought of joining, in their Freshmen year, to the game or meet of the season of their Senior year, has formed an ATTITUDE. And, these ATTITUDES build and grow to strengthen your determination and competitiveness, and that is the ATTITUDE that wins.

On the Move... Senior Shawn Gribble runs for the Quaker team to gain yardage for a crucial victory.

No matter, if you start or you "ride the pine" as a "bench warmer" or occasionally play, your ATTITUDE helps to build and strengthen the team, as well as yourself.

On Your Marks. The Quaker Cross Country Team gets set to run their grueling race.

An Exciting Season...

Varsity Football

In early August the Quaker Football team was already preparing for the 1989 season. The early morning meetings and all day practices whipped the team into shape, mentally and physically, as the first game quickly approached. And on August 25th the Quakers took on the Claymont Mustangs, and came out with a 12-6 victory.

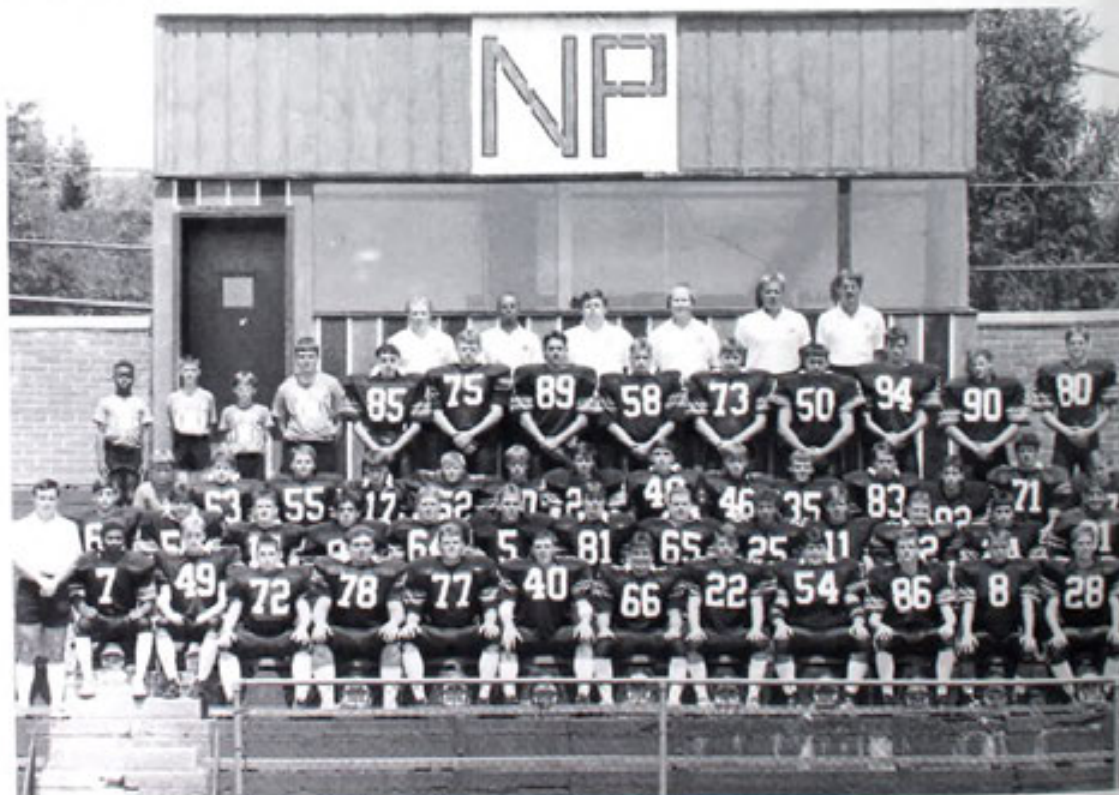

The next week the team went up against Cleveland JFK and took a 28-12 win, improving their record to 2-0. The following week did not go well for the Quaker team as they took their first loss to the Warrensville Tigers. But, the Quakers came back strong the following week and walked away with a 41-7 win over Canton South.

Glen Oak was the team's first away game of the season. The Quakers took the field against a fierce Eagles team and came up short with a 14-0 loss. The Quakers were home the next week and faced Lake. the game was scoreless until the last part of the fourth quarter, when Lake scored a touchdown giving the New Phila a heartbreaking 6-0 loss. The Quaker team was on the road for their seventh game, traveling to Louisville and coming away with a 22-14 win. The next two weeks the Quakers took losses to Hoover and Wooster, bringing their record to 4-5.

The next game was Dover, and on a warm October 27th evening traveled there for the last game of the season. The Quakers and Tornados battled it out for four action-packed quarters, Phila dominating all of the stats except the final score which was 28-22.

At the awards banquet on November 8th letters and certificates were passed out along with special awards. The Quarterback Club "Hardnose Award" went to Dave Grasselli, and the "Bill Kidd Elks Memorial Award" went to Todd Dawson. Dave Grasselli was also "Outstanding Defensive Lineman" and Keith Fuller received the award for "Outstanding Defensive Back". Shawn Gribble was named "Outstanding Offensive Back", and Todd Dawson and Gabe Richmond received the "Senior Academic Award". And, the "Big Play Helmet" award went to Todd Dawson and Shawn Gribble.

Reserves Beat Dover 14-12...

Reserve Football

The Reserve football team had a rough 1989 season this year, which opened with a 21-0 loss to Claymont. The team went into practice the next Monday with determination and excitement for next Saturday's game against Dover. As things seemed to be coming together, Brian Clymer, the team's only quarterback, re-injured an ankle injury during practice. With only a few days left before the big game, Coach Pryor turned to Freshman Eric Williams to fill in for Clymer. When game day arrived the team felt prepared for the match up with new found enthusiasm and confidence. The game was exciting throughout the entire four quarters which ended up 14-12 in favor of the Quakers.

The next week the Reserves traveled to Canton South where they took a disappointing 9-8 loss. The next week the team took another road trip to Lake and came away with another loss. The following Saturday's game against Glen Oak was cancelled and with this break in playing, the team practiced hard and the following Saturday rolled right over the Louisville team, shutting them out with a final score of 20-0. The next two weeks the Reserve team took losses to North Canton and Wooster ending their season with a 2-5 record.

But, their next game didn't go as well, as they battled against Canton Central Catholic in the cold and rain and ended up with a 0-0 tie. The next game was against a tough Glen Oak team which brought New

Phila their first loss. Lake was the next team the Quakers faced, and Phila earned their second win with a final score of 28-6. The next two games were probably the toughest for the team. Cross Country

Boys' and girls' cross country teams had exciting seasons. The boys were led by seniors Chris Miller, Geoff Harriman, Charlie Simon, Jason Mushrush, Brian Walker, Chris Nacci, and Matt Stover. The girls, with seniors Shelley Hill and Lynn Loxton, also had a good season.

The boys' major victories were at the Glen Oak Invitational where they defeated Cuyahoga Falls. They also won the Cambridge Invitational by edging state-qualifier Garfield Lincoln by one point.

In post-season action, injuries and illnesses plagued the boys. With Chris Miller and Jason Mushrush not competing in the Federal League meet due to injuries, the team was not able to finish higher than 5th. Charlie Simon placed 3rd and Geoff Harriman battled bronchitis for an 8th place finish. Both were named to the First Team Federal League along with Chris Miller who was named for his accomplishments during the season. At Districts the boys took the final qualifying spot for the Regional competition. The Regional team consisted of Geoff Harriman, Chris Miller, Charlie Simon, Jason Burgett, Jason Mushrush, Brian Walker, and Troy Glass. The boys took 6th place but did not go to State. Miller, however, rose to the occasion and took 12th place to qualify for State, crutches and all. Chris took 50th place overall at State. Great season guys!

The girls were led by Michelle Lyons, a junior. At the Federal League Meet, the girls ran to a 5th place finish. Michelle and Betsy Lautzenheiser were honored by being named to the First Team Federal League.

At Districts, the girls took second to Riverview by only one point, which advanced them to Regionals. The Regional team consisted of Michelle Lyons, Betsy Lautzenheiser, Jennifer Danzo, Shelley Hill, Libby Rinehart, Tisha Smith, and Pam Walker. They ran to a 9th place finish overall. Michelle took 4th place and qualified for state. She placed 61st there. Good job girls!

Awards were given as follows: Most valuable- Chris Miller and Michelle Lyons
Most Improved- Troy Glass and Jennifer Danzo

Hardest Workers- Jeff Smith, Jason Burgett, and Charlie Simon (tie) and Michelle Lyons.

Four boys and four girls were named to the Eastern District Team. They were Chris Miller, Geoff Harriman, Charlie Simon, and Jason Burgett. The girls were Michelle Lyons, Betsy Lautzenheiser, Jennifer Danzo, and Shelley Hill.

Serving for the Win . . .

Reserve Volleyball

Serve. This year the Quaker Reserve Volleyball team's strength was at the serve. Overall, 84% of the team's serves were in. Of the nine games in which the Quakers outserved their opponent all nine were won. The server with the best percentage was Sophomore Chrissy Simon whose 95% of serves being good helped her to top the serve points category with 143 points. She also had the most ace serves.

Although serving is important so is returning the ball. Sophomore Amy Thompson had 121 spikes to top the spiking records. Freshman Kelly Celce had the highest serve return percentage and Freshman Susan Johnson was the top blocker.

This year's record of 16-5 was one that took teamwork and excellent players to achieve. Eleven freshmen and six sophomores made up this year's team. The overall score this year was Quakers - 630, all other teams - 413.

An Impressive Overall Record...

Girls' Tennis

It was August and thoughts of New Philadelphia High School were going through the minds of at least twenty seven people. Not exactly thoughts of classes but thoughts about the girls' tennis team and who would get to play in most of the matches.

This year the girls' tennis team had an impressive overall record of 16 wins, 7 losses and their Federal League record was 10 wins, 6 losses. This group of Fighting Quakers had seven shut outs against schools like McKinley, Zanesville, Lake, twice against Hoover, and twice against Wooster. Their final standing in the Federal League was fourth place.

Three Quakers qualified for sectionals. They are Amy Montgomery, Brande Lamb, and Marisa May.

At the tennis banquet most of the players received awards from Coach Bellanco. The "best player" award went to Amy Montgomery while the "best record" award went to Raina Gilmore and Juliet Hicks. Brande Lamb was the "most improved singles" and Caree McAfee and Kim McCutcheon were "most improved doubles". Marisa May has the most career wins. The "silver set" award was presented to Brande Lamb.

Congratulations to all of the girls on the tennis team for doing their best and getting involved with extracurricular activities and showing school spirit!

The First Year...

Boys' Freshmen Basketball

The Freshman Boys' Basketball Team finished with a 5-11 record. Their first game was against Claymont. They defeated Claymont, 51-43. After a loss, the team went up against Hartford. The guys did their best but they ended up losing 100-5. Their next win came against Dover. The score was 49-39. In the middle of the season they played such teams as Jackson, Hoover, Glen Oak, and Wooster. As the season winded to a close, the boys once again took on the tomatoes of Dover. The game was close but in the end, as usual, New Philadelphia prevailed with a 43-41 victory. The team was coached by Rick Sattler. The boys should look forward to seeing some Reserve and possibly Varsity action next year.

A Season of Thrills...

Boys' Varsity Basketball

After a season like this, all one can say is, Whew!! The boys' varsity basketball team had a very exciting and emotional year. When they started off with five consecutive losses, everyone began to have doubts. Everyone, that is, except the team. They began to pull together and win games. Their first win came over North Canton Hoover, 82-57. Then they played Glen Oak. The battle was close for a while, but the Quakers dominated the second half and came out on top, 76-60. Soon came Dover. New Phila dominated the entire game and won big, 80-55. In the middle of the season, the Quakers won five straight games against Timken, Alliance, Jackson, Dover, and Lake. The defeat of Alliance came after two overtimes. New Phila finished the regular season with a 9-11 record. The Quakers played well in the tournaments. They won the Sectional crown against Wintersville, 66-41. At Districts, the Quakers went up against another arch rival, the Claymont Mustangs. The game, played on the day after the fire, was at Muskingum College. The guys trailed most of the game, but in the final frame, the Quakers began to take control. Two free throws were sunk by Brian Celce with six ticks on the clock to tie the game at 41-41. But, the Mustangs took the ball upcourt and made an easy layup to win, 43-41. The Quaker varsity team had an exciting season that everyone can be proud of.

A New Coach...

Varsity Girls' Basketball

Quakers Varsity Girls' Basketball Team had a new face this year, Jana Montague. Coach Montague came from Muskingum College and during her first year coaching, she was designated Coach of the Year.

The Quakers had an overall record this season of 13-9 and a Federal League record of 9-7. Some highlights this season were when the Quakers played against Claymont and beat them 52-45, it was an intense game. And when the Quakers played against Dover, the victories were split between both teams. The Quakers won the first game 52-47. Dover won the second game by a score of 43-58. At the end of the season banquet, various awards were given to varsity players. Kim McCutcheon and Brande Lamb got the award Best Field Goal Shooter. Tonya Reed received two awards, Best Free Throw Shooter and the Hustle Award. Crystal Miller also received two awards, Most Rebounds and Most Steals. Caree McAfee got the award Most Assists. Amy Reed received the Most Improved award and Heather Stingel received the Coaches Award.

Girls Finish 14-6...

Reserve Girls' Basketball

New Phila High School Reserve Girls' Basketball Team enjoyed a very successful season as they compiled a record of 14 wins and 6 losses. The highlights of the season were two victories over Dover and split victories with strong Glen Oak, one which ended in overtime, and Wooster. The Quaker girls had an offensive average of 38.1 points per game and a defensive average of 32.1 points per game. They had a field goal percentage of 36.5 and free throw percentage of 43.5 for the year. Four of New Phila's six losses came by a total of 14 points. Truly a successful season for the young Quakers.

Freshmen Girls' Basketball Team compiled a record this season of 6-9. Coached by Mary Sandy, the Quakers season was impressive. During the first seven games, the Freshmen Team had an offensive average of 25.1 points per game and a defensive average of 24.4 points per game. They had a combined total 347 points. The Quakers had a total of 59 offensive rebounds and 9.8 average per game. They also had a defensive total of 119 rebounds and a 19.8 average per game. Susan Johnson was the top scorer with 99 points and she was also the top rebounder with 134 rebounds. The highlight of the season was the tough game against Wooster in which the Quakers lost in the final seconds.

Wrestling

The 1989 - 1990 New Phila Wrestling Team began young and INEXPERIENCED. Neither of the two seniors, Jeff Cronebaugh and Jason Klein, had ever wrestled a varsity match, while there were only three returning starters from last years team. Returning were juniors Chris Ricklic and Trevor Olinger and sophomore C.J. Rothacher. With all of this, "This group of young wrestlers was one of the most enjoyable groups I have ever coached," commented Coach Les Wojciechowski, "They worked hard and wanted to keep improving."

Of the 1-10 record of individual meets, six of those losses, they won six matches while their opponents won seven.

Season highlights happened at Sectionals, where the Quakers qualified seven wrestlers of District Competition and only one of those was a senior. The Quaker team had four Sectional Champions, junior Jeff Smith (103), sophomore Steve Cronebaugh (145), junior Chris Ricklic (152) and senior Jason Klein (HWT), with other placers, junior Trevor Olinger, Second at 119, sophomore C.J. Rothacher, Third at 130 and junior Matt Morgan, Forth at 140.

At the Federal League Meet juniors Jeff Smith and Chris Ricklic made First Team All-Federal League. Junior Trevor Olinger made Second All-Federal League while receiving Honorable Mention All-Federal League were senior Jason Klein and sophomore Steve Cronebaugh.

At the District Tournament many of the wrestlers were able to place, which qualified junior Chris Ricklic for State Competition.

At State Chris Ricklic pinned his first opponent but was eliminated during his second match.

Boys' Track

The boys' track team had a quite exciting year. The boys finished the year with a 3-3-1 dual record. However, they ran much better than their record shows. In the Quaker Club Mini Relays, they finished first. In the Dave Milburn Memorial Mini Relays, they also finished first. They won the Leo Gundy Invitational...again. At the Tornado Relays, the boys finished third to two powerful schools, Stow Walsh Jesuit and Alliance. They also fared very well at one of the most prestigious meets in Ohio...the Belaire Relays. The highlight of this meet was the two-mile relay team's first place finish. Later came Districts. The OHSAA combined two districts which made it very hard for a team to win. The Quakers finished with fourth place. Six athletes qualified for Regional competition: Gabe Richmond, Todd Dawson, Chris Miller, Geoff Harriman, Charlie Simon, and Heath Knisely. At Regionals they had five qualify for State. The two-mile relay team of Miller, Harriman, Simon, and Knisely took fourth place to reach State, and Richmond placed in the pole vault to qualify for State.

A Rebuilding Year...

Softball

The Varsity Softball Team's 1990 season was mostly a learning experience. Having only two returning varsity players, the team realized that they were "out-experienced" and worked hard on mastering technique and playing their positions. At the season began, many games ended early, but as the season went on the team made progress, and seven inning games were actually played. Although the team's record was not the greatest, the team learned a lot and is ready to return next year with a fully experienced varsity team.

Boys' Tennis

Quaker tennis in 1990 saw the boys have a good year. They defeated Alliance for their first win. Later there were three straight victories against Jackson, Perry, and Zanesville. The guys kept working hard and after a few wins and losses, they played Alliance again. New Philadelphia won. They later played such teams as Ashland, McKinley, Hoover, Glen Oak, and Wooster. The team finished the year with a 9-1 record in dual competition. The boys also won numerous awards. Max McCartney, Danish Shah, and Joe Stephan each received their first year letters, while Rob Henning, Brian Celce, and Matt Miller accepted their third year letters. Meanwhile, Todd Pica got his fourth year award. The most improved player went to Brian Celce. Three people received the "Most Silver Sets" award. They were Brian Celce, Rob Henning, and Matt Miller. The "Gold Set" award went to Todd Pica. The boys' tennis team of NPHS can be proud of their 1990 season.

Everyone was yelling at him to go back, but he thought everyone was cheering him. So he raised his hands in triumph, while he walked into the catcher who had the ball.”

A Tied Ballgame...

Reserve and Freshmen Baseball

Quaker Freshmen Baseball team finished the season with a 4-5-1 record. The team showed a lot of improvement throughout the year and finished with an exciting 8-7 victory over Hoover, a team that had beaten New Phila twice earlier. Pitching for the team were Billy Jo Robbins, Nate Agar, Eric Williams, Jason Hanes, and Greg Gibbs.

Sophomore Dave Metzger keeps his eye on the ball during the game against Cambridge.

"It was probably when sophomore Scott Hutmacher tried to do a Pete Rose into home plate and just rolled across the plate."

Trying For A Strike...

Bowling League

Senior Justin Agar looks for his ball before his next turn.

“Bowling League is a good way to relax and have fun with your friends after school.”

Mr. Cascioli takes his turn at Kinser Lanes.

This year at N.P.H.S. there were two bowling leagues, one for students and another for teachers. The students met again at Boulevard Lanes every Tuesday at either 3:00 or 4:15. After 16 weeks of strikes, spares and gutterballs it came to an end with excellent bowlers being honored for their efforts. Kurt Housel and Darci Gerber were the highest single game winners in the 3:00 group with 202 and 170 points, respectively. Winners in the 4:15 group were Matt Bechtel with 209 and Becky Jacoby with 214. The winning team in the 3:00 group was the team of Brian Kinsey, Kurt Housel, Trevor Heidenreich, and Doug McMillen. The winning team of the 4:15 group was made up of Chad Mowrer, Rob Rupe, Scott Szabo, and Larry Bennington.

The teachers held their first annual bowling league at Kinser Lanes. Many teachers participated, using it to calm their nerves after long days of dealing with students.

Senior Becky Jacoby receives her award for highest single game.

AIDS Claims Ryan White

America Mourns

Even though the world was against him and his illness, Ryan White went on to change the opinion of many people concerning AIDS and its victims, especially children. He was diagnosed in 1984 after a blood transfusion given to him for his hemophilia. He challenged his school board in Kokomo, Indiana and won the right to attend classes. However the people could not accept him and he was forced to move to another school district.

He became a national celebrity and appeared on talk shows always putting on a positive show for his battle with AIDS.

At 18 he was just below five feet tall and weighed only 90 lbs. As Ryan told his story to America, they saw that AIDS truly does make victims of its devastation.

On Sunday April 6, 1990 Ryan White died of complications from AIDS. At his side were his mom and singer Elton John. At his funeral mourners included First Lady Barbara Bush, and singer Michael Jackson. Ryan White taught us about caring and how to open our hearts to others.

Communism Crumbles

Dawn of Freedom in Eastern Europe

For more than 28 years a wall was dividing East and West in Europe. At midnight Nov. 9, 1989 people from East and West Berlin pulled themselves up and over a wall that divided them for so many years. Berlin was no longer East and West sectors but a whole unified city.

East Germany along with Poland, Hungary, and Czechoslovakia are trying to abandon the old regime of Communist rule in favor of democracy. Traffic between the two former countries became more and more of a snafu as freedom became more apparent. Thousands left East Germany for the West.

Within days talk of reunification began to surface. Many questions remain as to how and when the process would be completed. The question of the new Germany belonging to NATO is a major concern. The flame of freedom has been burning for years. Now as 1990 moves on the flame gets brighter each day. The Eastern block is striving for the freedom that only a few years ago they just dreamed of.

NPHS Gutted By Fire

Cause...Arson

March 4, 1990 changed the face of New Philadelphia High School. A fire started by arson gutted the high school leaving a shell that was once a library and audio visual room. In addition, many classrooms were damaged by the smoke and water, as fire fighters put out the blaze. Temperatures were estimated at nearly 2000 degrees which were hot enough to melt a steel support beam in the library supporting study hall room 329 directly above. The building looked as if it were vandalized, as windows and doors were busted out to let the heat escape. The police were out on 24 hour duty to protect the building from further damage and to watch for hot spots that might occur.

The plans for where the high school as well as the junior high students would go were being formulated Sunday night as administrators met. The primary goal was to get nearly 1600 students back to school as soon as possible. The Kent State Branch as well as Buckeye Joint Vocational School were the sites chosen. The week of March 4 was used to get the plan and schedules worked out. School was to begin March 12. The

The public looks on as the firemen try to break through the roof of the high school to let the intense heat from the fire out. Firefighters spent most of Sunday trying to keep the fire from restarting.

Junior High was held at the First United Methodist Church and the First Christain Church.

As the week progressed the Times-Reporter gave prime coverage to the story and the community rallied its support to help the kids get back to school.

On March 12 NPHS began the day at 6:30 A.M. at the KSU branch.

"Every time there's a fire drill at school you think 'Why can't this be a real fire?' But when it really happens you regret even thinking that. I guess I took school for granted."

Students got off busses and began the most educational part of their high school career. Only students in other natural disasters like the Xenia tornado could have related to what the next 10 weeks would bring. Teachers were not prepared for what was in store either. Both groups would be roaming from room to room with no

"It made me sick to see the absolute destruction which a few misguided individuals caused."

"It's like a death in the family."

Vandals broke out the glass in the high school office as part of the break-in and arson fire in the high school.

place to leave their books, lunches etc.

As the weeks went by the patience and tempers grew thin. Teachers and students were tired by mid-week and it showed. Even the bright warm spring days could not make the situation any better. Fights were a common sight and a second assistant Principal was brought in to help. What was even worse was the thought that this type of situation was going to exist for at least two more years.

As the year was ending there were two big items on everyone's mind. A Bond issue to build a new high school was going before the voters on June 19 in a special election that virtually split the community in half. The issue would raise taxes for the average homeowner less than $100 per year for the next 23 years.

The other big question was where New Philadelphia High School would be held for the next two to three years. Again much controversy was raised as a suggestion to bus students to Canton was put before the entire school. Other alternatives were to run a split schedule with the junior high at the cleaned up Welty building.

Spring sports as well as Prom and the Senior trip to Cedar Point all went off without a hitch. The last two weeks the students had all the facilities of the KSU branch to themselves to finish out the year with the traditional exam schedule.

Although NPHS is not currently at 343 Ray Ave. it is alive and well. The future of the high school rests with voters in New Phila. Hopefully all can look back on these days as a way that the New Phila. schools became better than they were before the fateful day of March 4, 1990.

"When my friends told me the high school was on fire I didn't believe them. After asking them if this was a joke, they told me to turn on the radio. I just couldn't believe it. The hardest part of the next week was not knowing what had been affected and how bad the damage was."

The intense heat outside the library melted the tumblers on nearby lockers.

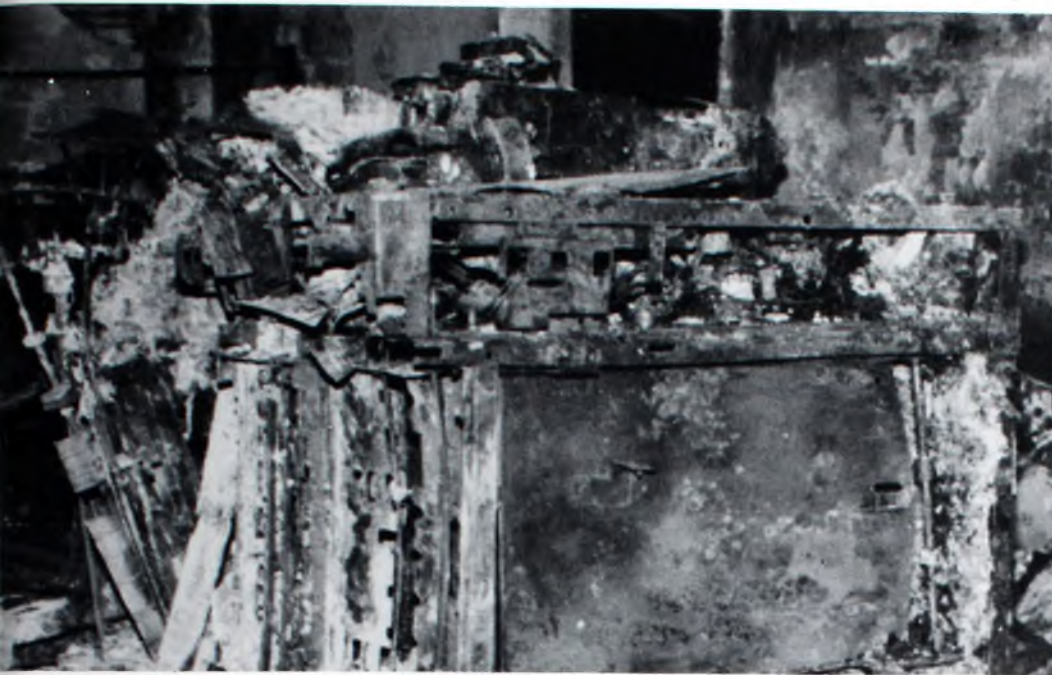

The bent beam supporting room 329 that the nearly 2000 degree heat caused to sag.

Inside the library, where all that was left were blackened remains of books that were used by all students at one time or another.

The floor of 329 directly above the library begins to collapse as the heat was so intense that the steel beam beneath it was melted in the 2000 degree heat.

“My first reaction was shock and disbelief. When I asked how bad it was, and then went to see it for myself, I felt depressed and empty inside. I couldn’t believe it was happening to me. My next feeling was anger toward the person who deliberately set the fire. If I knew who had done it, I wouldn’t hesitate to ‘Rat’ on him.”

The xerox machine that the high school used 8 hours a day was left as a pile of burned metal.

Inside a locker outside the library door. Most of the contents were burned beyond recognition.

Looking down THROUGH the floor in 329 to the library shell below.

“When my friends told me the high school was on fire I didn’t believe them. After asking them if this was a joke, they told me to turn on the radio. I just couldn’t believe it. The hardest part of the next week was not knowing what had been affected and how bad the damage was.”

NPHS Moves On...KSU and Buckeye JVS Become Home

I'm very thankful that Buckeye JVS and Kent State were generous enough to let us use their facilities. Adjusting to our new classrooms was made easy by our great NPHS teachers. We need more time for sleep and homework is the same or even more than before."

"Sometimes the classes can be TENSE!"

Students enter Kent State at 6:30 to begin their day that would require shuttling between there and Buckeye JVS several times a day.

Parent volunteers get organized to help the students find their way around the KSU branch. They helped out the rest of the year doing anything to make the teachers' job a little easier.

Bob Holmes looks up a book in the card catalog at KSU. Teachers still required students to do research for papers and the KSU library provided the books.

The Talking Walls
by David Proper, 1990

"I'm afraid for the future of NPHS. The next few years of students will have to adjust to temporary facilities because they'll never see a new or remodeled school. But I would like to make one point perfectly clear. The people of the community are the ones who have to pay the taxes, so they should decide what must be done to get the upcoming students into a high school. But no matter what they decide, something must be done. So here's a message for the people of the community: "Please vote for the levy. Don't leave us hanging!" "

If walls could talk, the stories they'd tell.
Stories of terror, and stories of hell.
Of that night, imbedded in their mind,
We search for the reason, there's none to find.
With a quick flick of a match that's oh so bright,
He casts a town into horror and fright.
With all the kids the memories live on--
Continue to live, long after it's gone.
The building some call school, and others call home,
Was brutally murdered, and then to us was shown.
The true meaning of death, of fright and fear,
For now all we can do is shed a tear
And look to future as it casts a light,
And rember our school, before the fateful night.
Ever since that deadly silent hour,
We've hoped, we've prayed, and we've looked for power.
The power to move on, to progress in spite
Of all the things that happened so slight.
The effect is great, the end so near,
It's a new beginning that we all fear.
Left behind, in the shadows of our minds,
The building we called home, now another we must find.
Yet another rumor, yet another lie.
All we can do now, is stare and sigh.
NPHS lives in us all, that I CAN say;
And it will be back yet another day.

"I really don't know what to think. I hope the town will realize our need for a new school. But if not, I have trust in our administrators. I think they'll pull through. The kids in Phila High are strong and I think they will do surprisingly well until arrangements can be made to get them a school."

" My first reaction was, oh cool! no more school. But then my head filled with all sorts of questions. I had no idea where I'd graduate from. The true horror struck me when I saw the newspaper with the picture of the library on the front. I rember sitting in Drug Mart's parking lot and crying my eyes out. It really hurt that someone would do that to my school."

"If you want to learn, nothing's changed. If you want to take advantage of the system, you can do that too. We've been given many responsibilities that we never had before. Most people are enjoying it, and doing quite well."

"Inspite of the bad circumstances, I think our current situation is the best we could've hoped for. As for the teachers, I think that they are very emotionally drained and many are having a more difficult time than the students."

" I feel the building is a great loss to the community. My father graduated from NPHS, my grandfather taught at NPHS and my brother graduated from NPHS. The building in which this occurred is now in horrible condition."

"Little Shop of Horrors"...

Spring Musical

What's the most important thing for two young people on Skid Row in the 1950's? Love... Money... Wealth... Fame... Or just to get out of Mushnik's Skid Row Florist. For Seymour, his greatest goal is to be with Audrey, but feels the only way he can do it is to win her over with money and to get her away from sadistic Orin Scrivello. He does this by the incredible Audrey II, the world's most amazing and largest unidentified plant.

"The best part of the play was the we all worked together. Even though the circumstances were against us we produced a play that everyone enjoyed including the cast and the crew.

-Sophomore
Jared Jenkins

The only problem is that the Audrey II has a special craving... Human blood! And Seymour must fulfill it!

"Little Shop of Horrors" was performed at Front Street Administration on April 20, 21, 22. Director was George Gardner and music director Jason Rusznak.

The Urchins (Kim McCutcheon, Lori McMillen, and Jodie Reiss) listen to Seymour (J Schumacher) in the song "You Never Know".

In "Somewhere That's Green" Audrey (Kirstin McGarry) tells the Urchins (Lori McMillen, Jodie Reiss, and Kim McCutcheon) of the life she wants when she gets off Skid Row.

Mushnik (Jared Jenkins) and Audrey (Kirstin McGarry) during "Downtown" sing of their life on Skid Row.

Prom Decorating...

“Trying to get people organized was really difficult and deciding how we were going to decorate Prom was a real challenge.”

“The best part of decorating for Prom was seeing people working together as a class. We were like one big family. It was Great!”

-Junior Jen Lile

Juniors Nicole Sankey and Lynne Wise climb the ladder to put tape on the walls.

Juniors Janet Baumer and Jason Rusznak carry chairs into the gym for the tables.

Juniors Mindy Haney and Missy Fuller work on the clouds in the walkway.

The juniors work on the upstairs tables and streamers.

Prom

Midnight Masquerade

The 1990 Prom, "Midnight Masquerade" was a great success. The Junior class worked very hard in the gym the week before as well as a month earlier with the planning.

The setting looked like a medieval castle with a large courtyard and a fire breathing dragon.

The people in charge of this great gala's decorating were: Jen Lile, Zack Tera-kedis, and Chris Schoelles, along with help from Junior class advisers Rod Miller and Jim Watson.

Each night, over forty Juniors gathered at the school to help decorate for Prom.

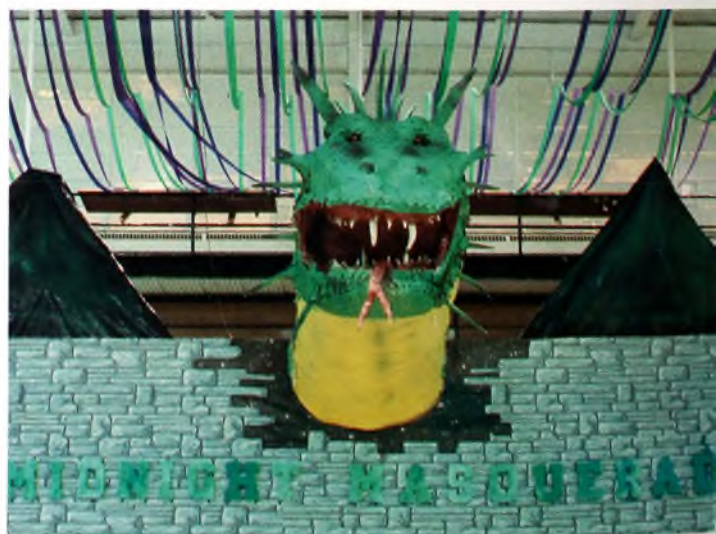

The pictures were taken by Mitchells' Studio. Music was provided by Nightengale.

Midway through the dance, Bob Belknap and Lisa Williams were named King and Queen.

"The best part of the prom was being told by our friends during the week that they had voted for us. On the night of Prom we were overjoyed.

-Seniors Bob Belknap and Lisa Williams

The Post-Prom was held at the Skate Place. It was complete with food, pool, video games, limbo, more dancing, and of course, a video of the prom. Music was again provided by Nightengale. Capping off the night's festivities was bowling at Kinser Lanes.

Seniors Bob Belknap and Lisa Williams dance together just after being named to the royal court.

Phila. students gather to look at their choices for college.

Seniors Darci Gerber, Shelley Hill, Crystal Hopkins and Quaker Spirit show their pride in decorating their hoomroom door.

Senior Trevor Heidenreich works at the concession stand during summer vacation. The Park was a popular place for Phila. students to work.

ODD...Even...Attitudes!

With everything that has happened this year attitudes have been arising from every direction and from everyone.

With each passing day more Attitudes seem to come to the surface., bringing on problems and new experiences.

But through all the turmoil, everyone tried to pull their resources together in order to finish the year on time. It took a lot of time and patience but worth all the strife.

Orin Scrivello, Junior(Lee Zickel), sings "Dentist" in the Spring Musical "Little Shop of Horrors".

"Nerd Patrolman" Jack Sweitzer gets ready for the crowds on "Nerd Day" during Phila./Dover week.

In the hot August sun, the percussionists practice at South Elementary preparing for the fall competition season.

Junior Stacie Caviness works in the Park concession stand during the summer. This was a fun way to make some money and enjoy the nice weather.

Senior Tammy Turnbull readies for graduation and takes care of some last minute details.

The 1990 issue of the Delphian marked the 77th year of the New Philadelphia High School publication of the yearbook. The 1990 staff members were: Editor Kirstin McGarry, Jenny Best, Terra Colvin, Jason Burgett, Jenni Welsh, Janan Abbey, Jim Vickers, Kittie Hykes, and Jill Best.

The Delphian staff would like to give special thanks to: Terry Barnhill, Bernie Gratz, and everyone at Mitchell's Studio, The Times Reporter and their photographers (photo librarian), John Barr, Larry McBride, and everyone on staff who took pictures. Dover High School Administrators for allowing us to take pictures during Phila - Dover week, the Phila. High Staff and Administration, and anyone who helped who we forgot to mention and thank.

A VERY SPECIAL THANKS to Jim Barbour and the staff at Herff Jones for their help in designing and bringing our ideas together. With their help we have been able to meet deadlines for 4 years. (With the help of the staff and Mr. Young's support this could have never happened.)

The budget totaled nearly $27,000 for this year's yearbook. "ODD... EVEN... ATTITUDES". $5600 in advertising and $400 in patrons was raised to help finance the publication. Money from under portraits, shade pictures and carnations was raised to help fund yearbook. Books sold for $25, $30, $35, and for pre-orders. The cover is Vista Litho, designed. The endpapers are school designed bra color. The text paper is 100 lb Bordeaux color printed on 10 Eurogloss. The book is Smyth sewn, round back.

The bodycopy is Serif, quotes are Tiffler Bold, captions are Clarendon Bold, ads are Avant Garde Bold, and tabs are Malibu, headlines are Avant Garde Bold and subheadings are Ballardvarde.

We had 59 pages of four color and 6 pages of spot color.

'ODD...EVEN...ATTITUDES', was printed by Herff Jones in Shreveport, Louisiana. The press run was 1000 copies.

The 1990 Delphian Staff is very proud to have produced the 77th edition of the Delphian Yearbook under conditions that hopefully other Delphian Staff have to endure. The March 4, 1990 issue changed NPHS forever.
