Freshmen Katie Meo is about to fly away!

Seniors Sean Zion and Michael Avon are proud to be New Phila football fans!

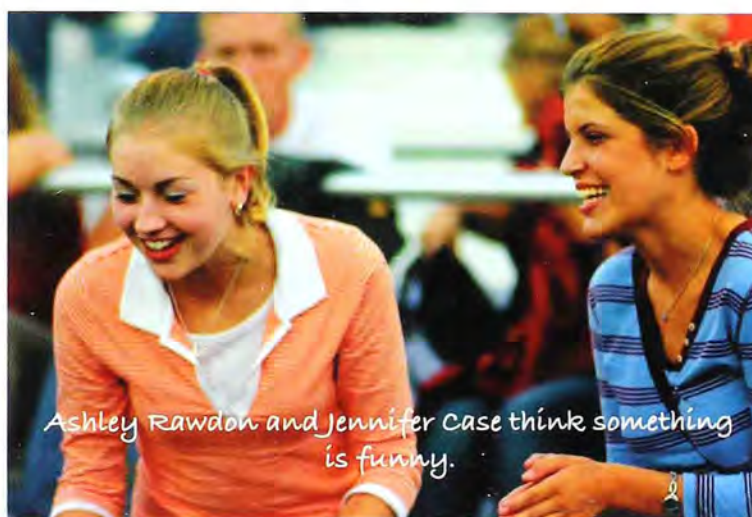

Leslie gives Evan a mischievous look.

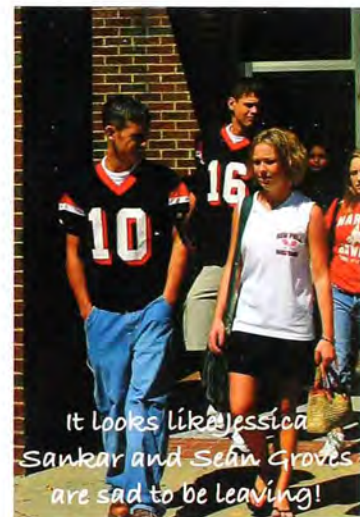

Junior Britt Zion runs for victory!

Seniors Maggie, Shannon, Amanda, and Michele are having a "hot" time at the spirit rally.

Ashley Rawdon and Jennifer Case think something is funny.

It looks like Jessica Sankar and Sean Groves are sad to be leaving!

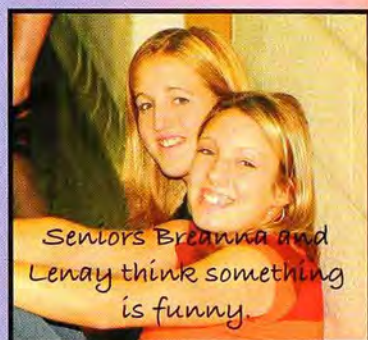

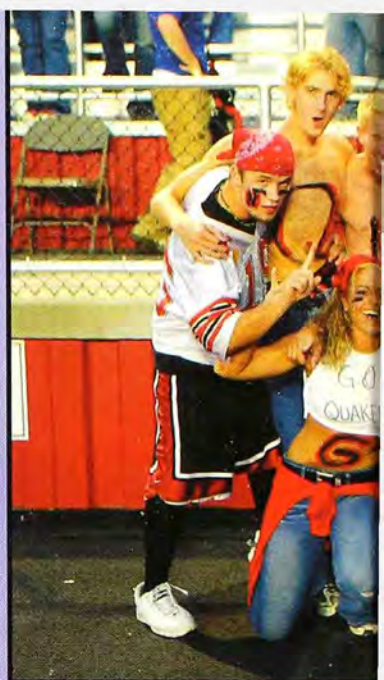

A Splash of Color

Not just another drab year.

Just like a painting, the summer blended into the new school year. Students were given a chance to come and show off their individual personalities and styles. The atmosphere of the school was painted by all kinds of bright smiling faces. New Phila High Lites were what we tried to capture.

Bending the Light

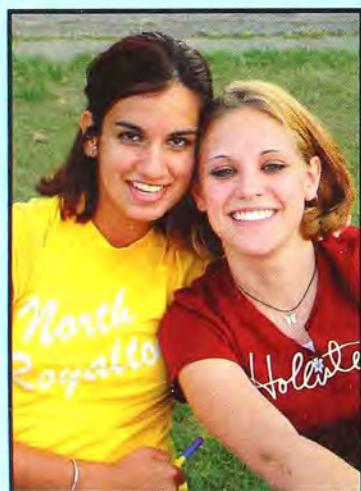

Everyone loves a rainbow. They are such tricks of nature as light passes through raindrops to separate all of the different colors. Students at New Phila are a lot like rainbows, each of us shining in a different frequency. Some people seemed "blue" while other people were "red". Most of us were made up of lots of different colors. Just like no rainbow is the same neither were we.

Seniors Breanna and Lenay think something is funny.

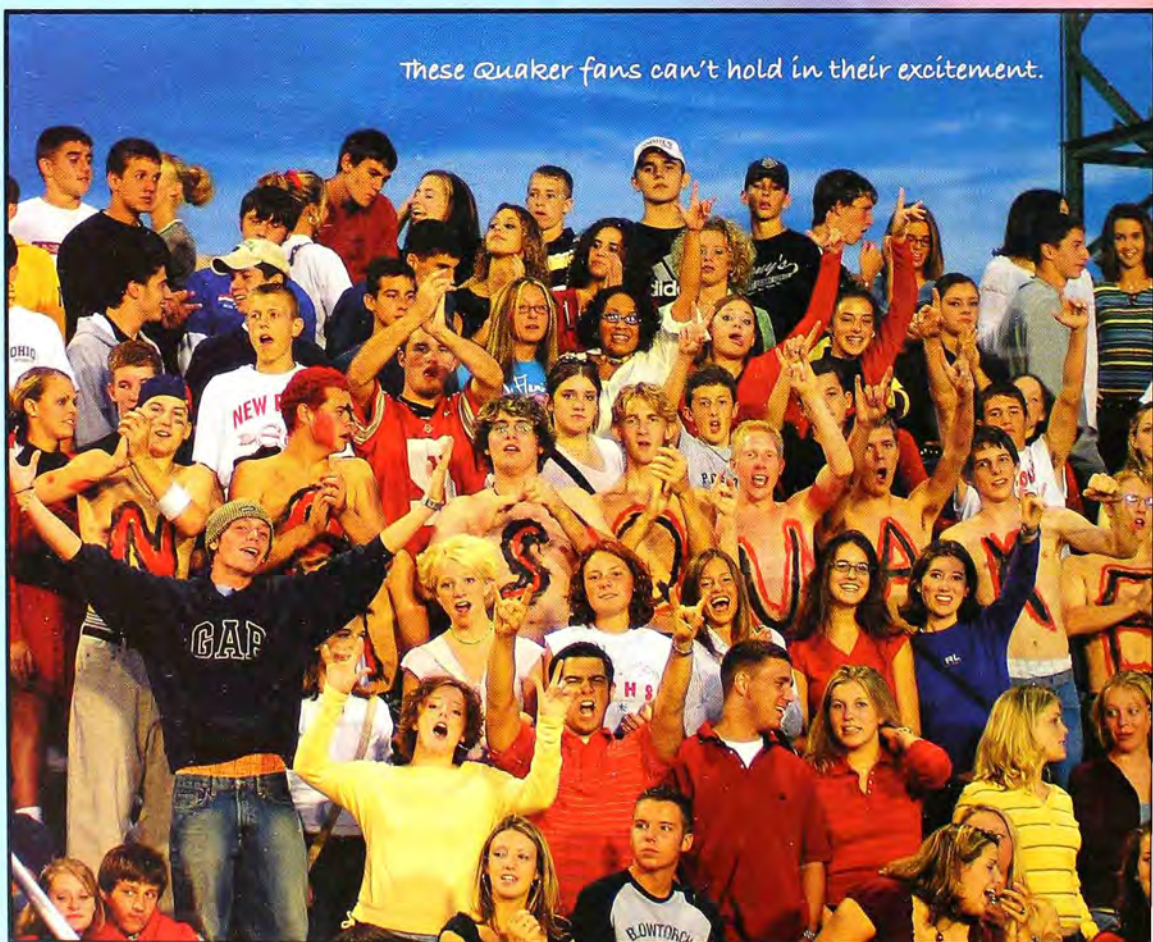

Seniors Rah, Senior Rah, Rah Rah SENIORS!

Charla Walker is happy about the first day of school.

Pryia Patel and Ashely Menefee cheer the varsity soccer team to a victory!

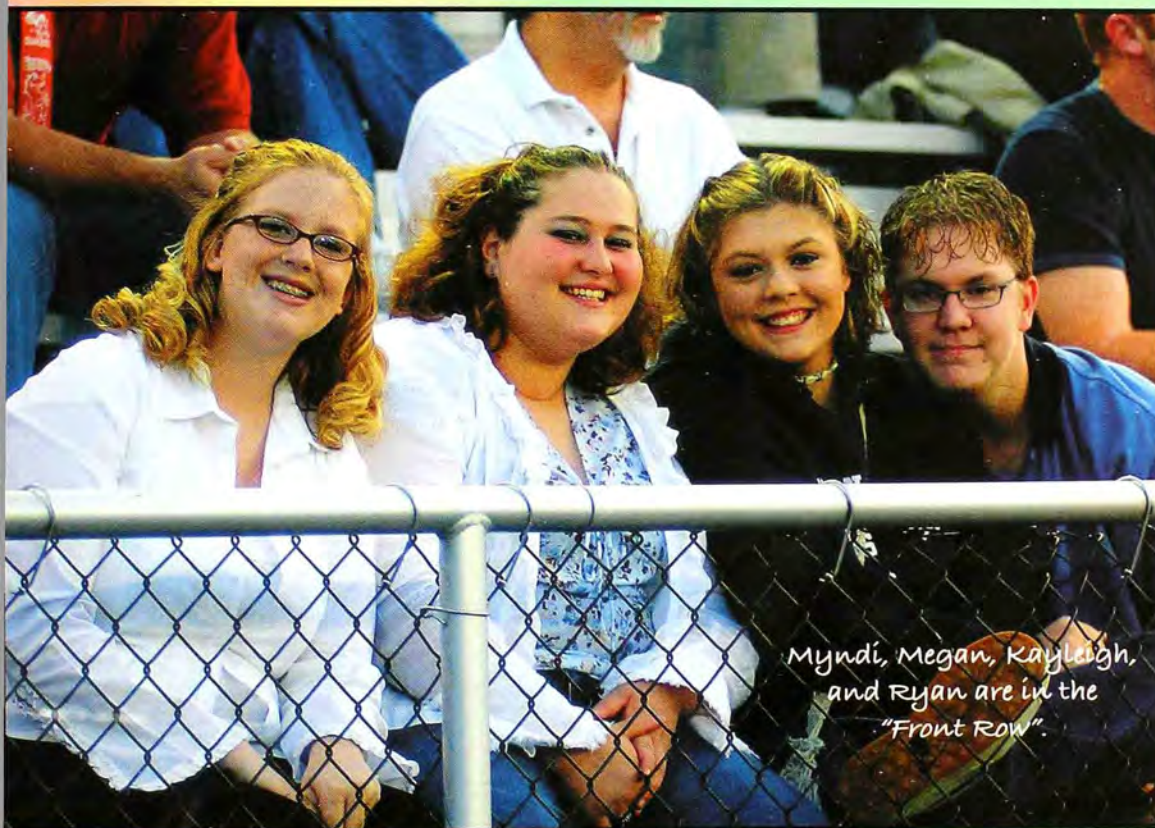

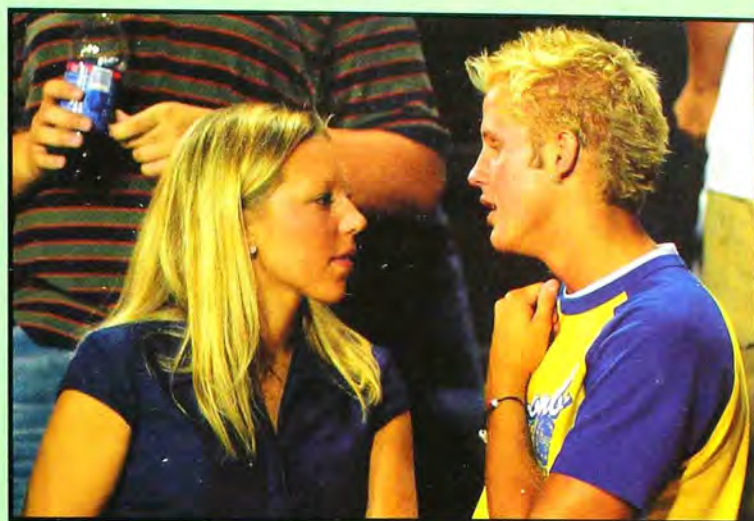

These Quaker fans can't hold in their excitement.

A little skin leads to a lot of spirit!

Senior Ryan Ress is just about to pop the big question, "Andrea, will you please buy me a bag of popcorn?"

Summer in the Sun

It was all about the tan.

Summer vacation was the time when you got to leave all you schoolwork behind and focus on making the cash to pay for those weekend nights with your friends. If you were one of the lucky ones who didn't have to get a summer job, your main focus was making sure you didn't burn while laying by the pool. As the summer slipped away we realized that we were getting closer and closer to a new school year.

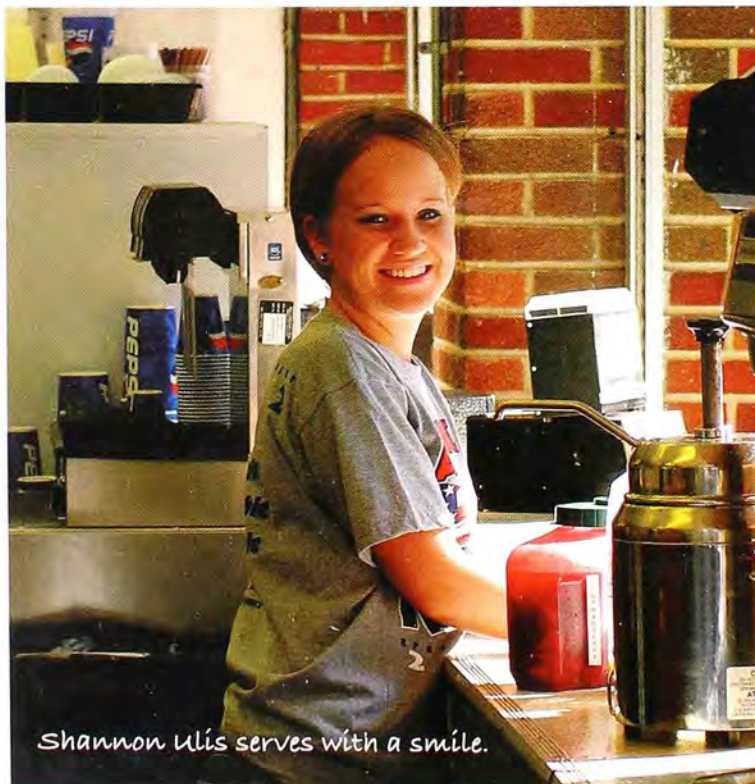

Carey Aubihl and Brittany Zion show us what summer is all about.

Anna Krabill shows us her cash making skills.

Alex McConnell just loves selling yearbooks!

Breanna Clum saves the day at the park pool.

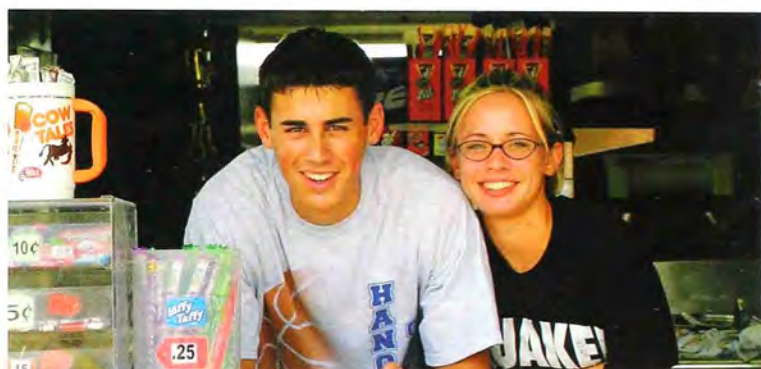

Ryan Ress keeps an eye on the swimmers.

Chris Welker and Amanda Conklin have a sweet smile!

Keri Jenkins keeps the rides rolling.

Rachel Schlarb takes a ride on the coaster.

Saturday, October 5, 2002 at 1:00 the New Philadelphia Quakers hosted their annual homecoming game. At half time the 2002 homecoming court was announced and Senior Lacey Sickinger was chosen queen. The Quakers played North Park Collegiate from Ontario, Canada. This team came from Canada with a record of 4-0 but after leaving Quaker stadium there record was 4-1. North Park was defeated by the Quakers with a blow out score of 40-0.

Mardi Gras Madness

So much to do, so little time.

The 2002 Homecoming game was on Saturday October 5 at 1:00 PM. This was a change from the usual Friday night game. Everyone was rushing after the game to get their hair done, pictures taken and go to dinner. The dance was extended to 11:30 from the usual 11:00 so that everyone had a little more time. Student Council voted on a Mardi Gras Theme. The walls were decorated with party masks and bead necklaces. Although it was a busy day the dance turned out to be a great one.

A group of seniors are having a great time at their last homecoming dance.

Suiting Up for Spirit

Once again the tradition of dressing-up for the theme of each day was the main part of Spirit Week. Students could be found wandering the halls dressed as anything from comic book characters to cowboys. However, a new tradition was started. Phila students decided that they were tired of being mocked by Dover when called the "Quackers." So, like the old saying goes, if you can't beat them join them. One day was titled "Unleash the duck" and students dressed as a crazed Quaker fans or a duck. Students from every grade were Suiting up for Spirit to show that traditional Phila Spirit!

Maresa Crile, Josalyn Ruefly, and Ashlie Miller "Unleash the Duck" within.

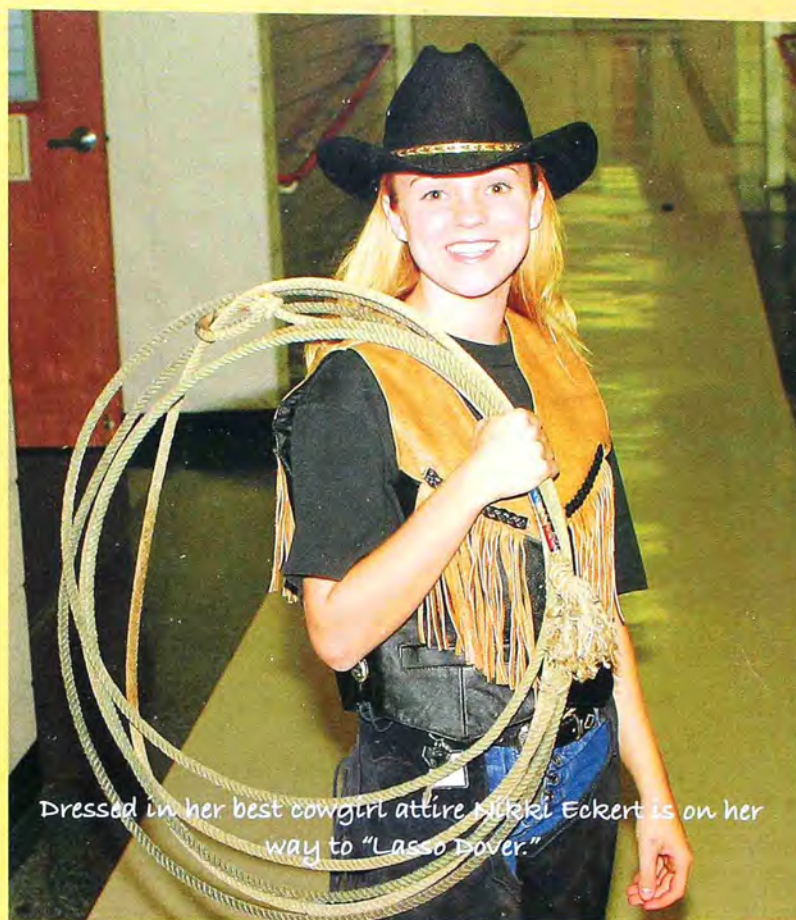

Who knew that Scott Alford could be such a convincing punk?

Kimmy Zeller, Talin Celuch, Steph Leggett, and Allison Lawver go old school and disguise themselves as the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles.

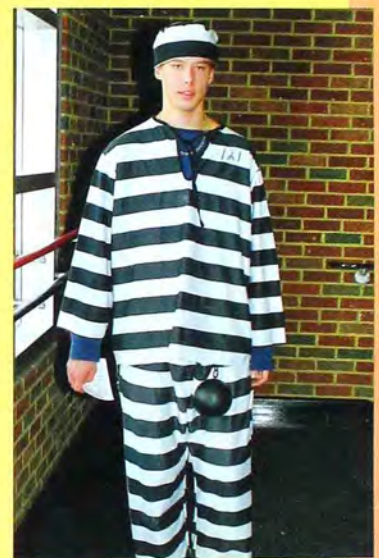

Beth Ashbaugh says "QUACK! QUACK!"

Dressed in her best cowgirl attire Nikki Eckert is on her way to "Lasso Dover."

It's easy to see why we love it!

Lindsey and Abby take a break after dancing.

Ashley Studer and Ali Luthy get ready to perform.

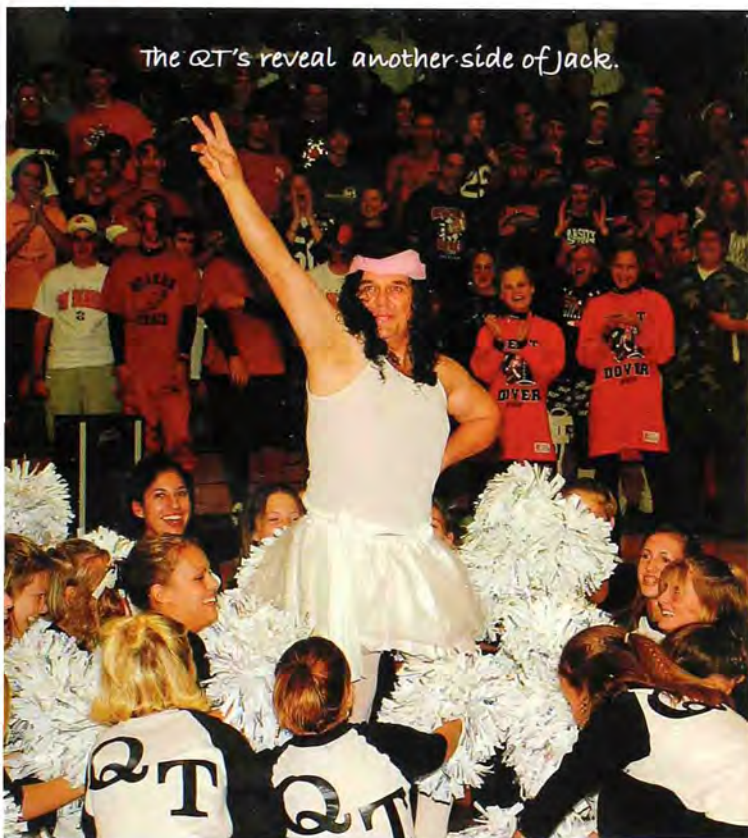

The cheerleaders do the wheelie feat in a box.

We Brought the Spirit!

But we didn't bring our shirts.

The Red and Black Pack was back! In their effort to make Phila/Dover week more exciting the group designed T-shirts with a not so appropriate saying on the back. Since they couldn't bring the shirts to the rally they brought spirit instead. Glow sticks were twirling, the Delphian Chorale imitated the cheerleaders from Dover, and the Seniors took their traditional walk in the spotlight. At Friday's rally the tribute was replaced with a class dance contest and Secret Seniors.

The QT's reveal another side of Jack.

The Delphian Chorale shows us they have spirit.

Megan and Jacie are ready to start the pep rally.

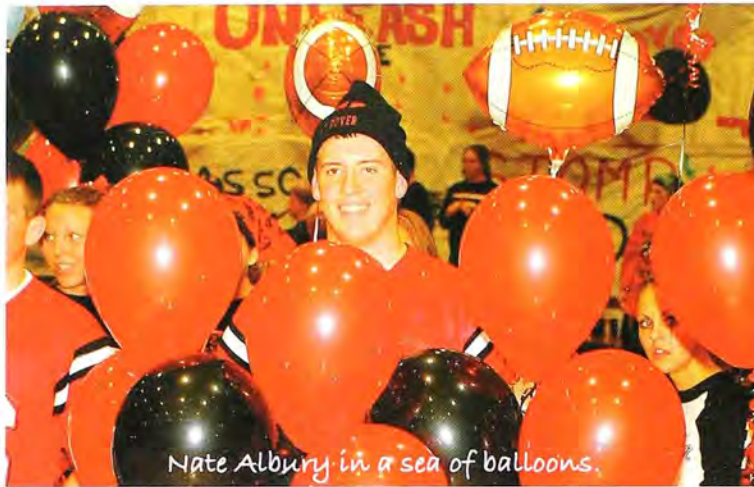

Amanda Conklin busts a move at her last pep rally.

Eric, use a mirror next time!

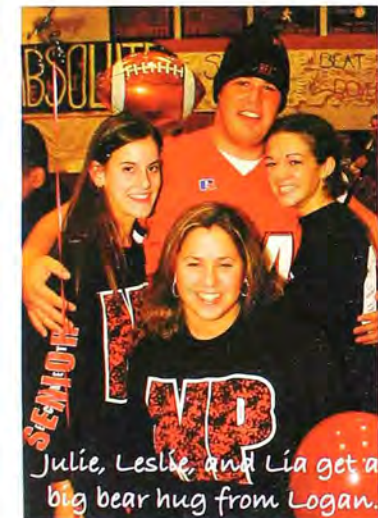

Shh, Don't Tell

We could hardly keep our mouths shut.

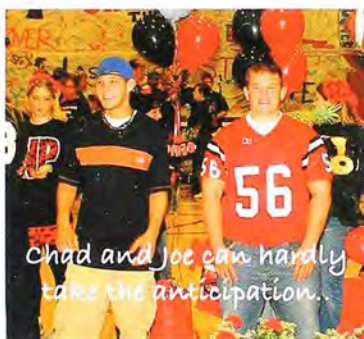

The senior class of 2003 took a different approach to the normal way secret seniors were done. Due to the large number of athletes and girls willing to participate, not only football players were assigned with secret seniors, but all fall sports athletes were. It was a competition between the girls to see who could come up with the best ideas for their lockers. In hopes to boost their spirits, the boys had new decorations and surprises for every game.

The Mud Bowl

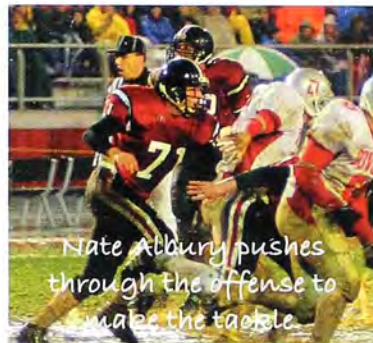

The 98th annual Dover / Phila game was held at Quaker stadium on October 25, 2002. Having a down pour of rain and other activities on the field the week before, the field was a mud bowl. The non stop rain that night didn't help us out. One highlight of the game was senior Chase Hostetler breaking the school's record for most rushing yards. Though the Quakers were defeated with a score of 12-0 there was a lot of spirit that filled the stands.

Freeze

Everybody clap your hands.

Everyone was doing the Cha-Cha Slide. It replaced the Electric Slide and Macarena, making them the thing of the past. It was the fun, new dance that everyone enjoyed. As long as you knew the difference between right and left, and how to count, you could do the Cha-Cha slide. With moves such as Charlie Brown, left steps, right steps, criss-cross, and cha-cha's dancers were never bored. "Can you go real low? How low can you go?" This made dancers challenge each other to see who could get closer to the floor. The Cha-Cha Slide was definitely climbing the charts and on it's way to number one.

Michael tells Michael and Tony, "peace".

The Freshmen guys aren't too sure if they like these high school dances yet.

Tartuffe...

All the way from France.

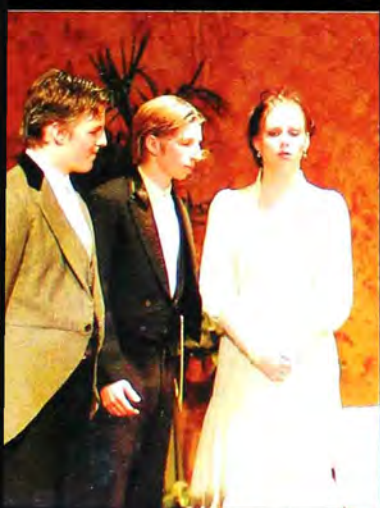

Tartuffe is a play about a family who struggles to reunite after a crook, Tartuffe, swindles them out of house and home. Seniors Andrew Thomas (Orgon), Matt Ankney (Tartuffe), Marissa Walter (Dorine), and Leslie Thompson (Elmire) did an excellent job portraying their characters. Miss Leeper was the director of the play for the second year in a row. She took a different approach this year by choosing a French comedy, something that has never been done at New Phila before.

Orgon won't believe a word his family says.

Elmire is trying to stop Tartuffe's seductive ways.

Orgon, Cleante, and Marianne are worried that Tartuffe is taking their things.

Andrew Thomas gets yelled at.

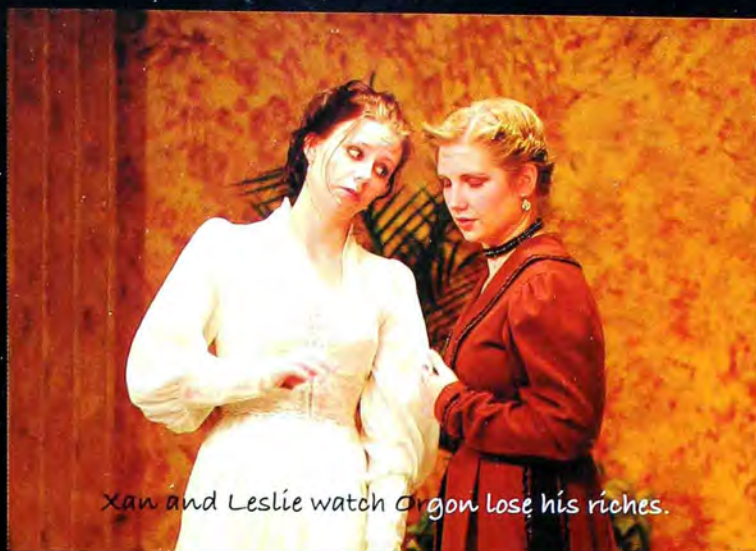

Marissa and Xan are frustrated over Andrew's idiotic behavior.

Orgon is trying to throw Tartuffe out of his house for good.

Jesse, Xan, and Marissa watch as their father is approached by an officer.

Xan and Leslie watch Orgon lose his riches.

Alex portrays a duel.

Orgon listens to Tartuffe's lusty behavior.

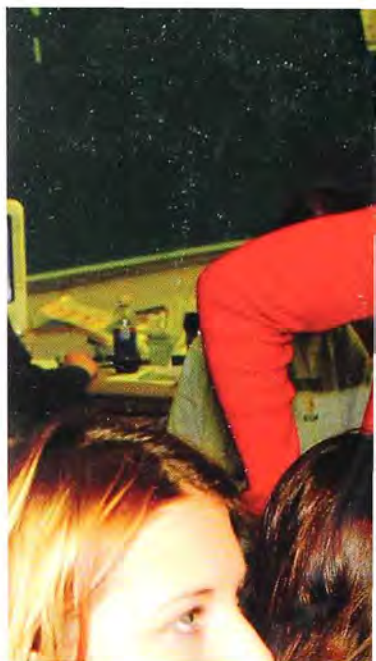

Damian and the others are told they must go hide.

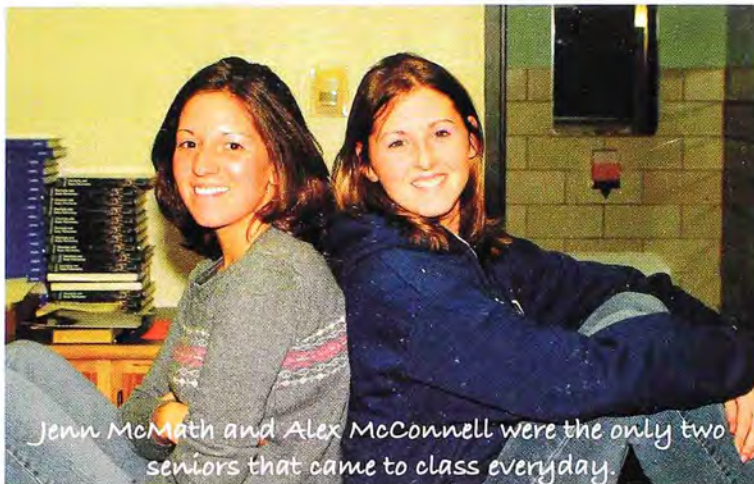

Shelley follows orders from Madam.

Snapshot

The most important thing about making memories is having the friends to share them with, and the yearbook to look back on. If it weren't for the yearbook staff, with the help of Mr. Pry, there wouldn't be that chance. They always found a way to capture just the right moments, leaving them etched in our remembrance of high school forever. We can't go back and do anything over again, but we will always have our yearbooks to cherish and our stories to tell. They say that a picture speaks a thousand words, the yearbook girls, along with their lone guy, Neal, hoped they spoke to you.

Joelle Moeller is frustrated while working on her fashion page.

El Torro

The band returns to Atlanta.

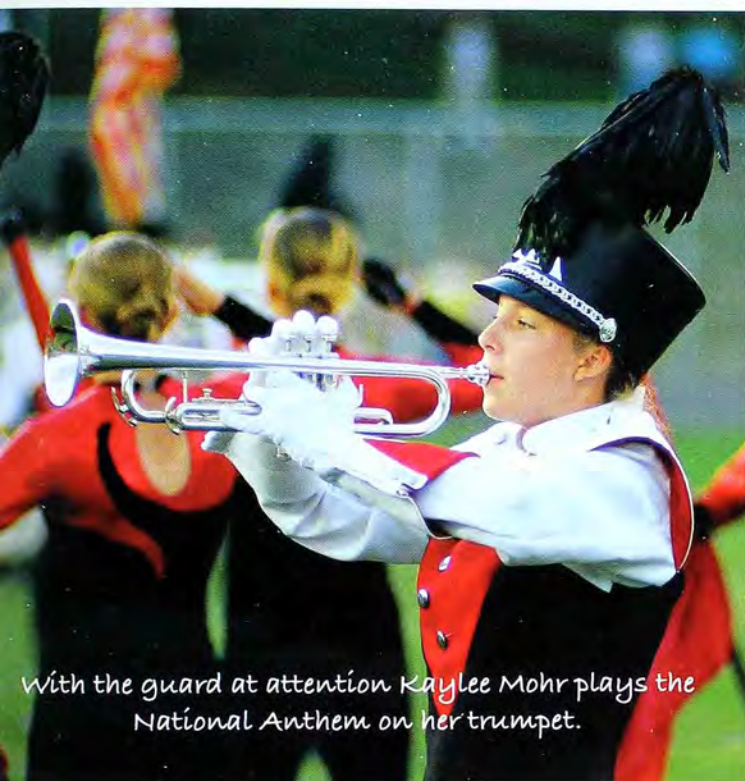

The band had not traveled to the Georgia Dome since 1995. With an exciting Spanish theme they felt it was time to make the trip again. After trying out "La Corrida De Toros" at several local and State competitions, where they received a superior, the highest rating possible, the band decided it was time to give the Bands of America Regional a try. "El Torro" featured mock bull fight. Facing some of the top bands in the eastern United States they came up just short of making the finals.

Flags are one of the many props used by the guard.

Nate Buker and the rest of the band march at the First Town Day Parade.

With the guard at attention Kaylee Mohr plays the National Anthem on her trumpet.

Rob Cleary, Ashleigh DiPiero, and Alison Victor say, "Brass is where it is at".

Luke Maldonado uses up his nervous energy by drumming on his practice pad waiting for his performance.

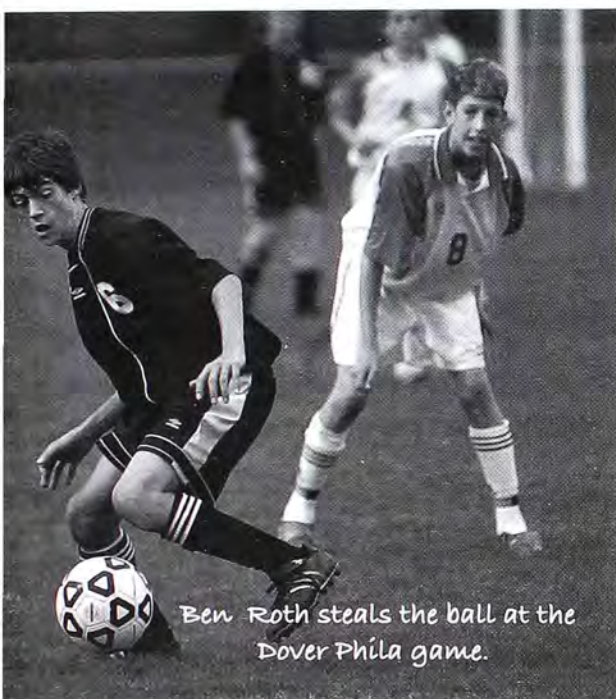

Final Score

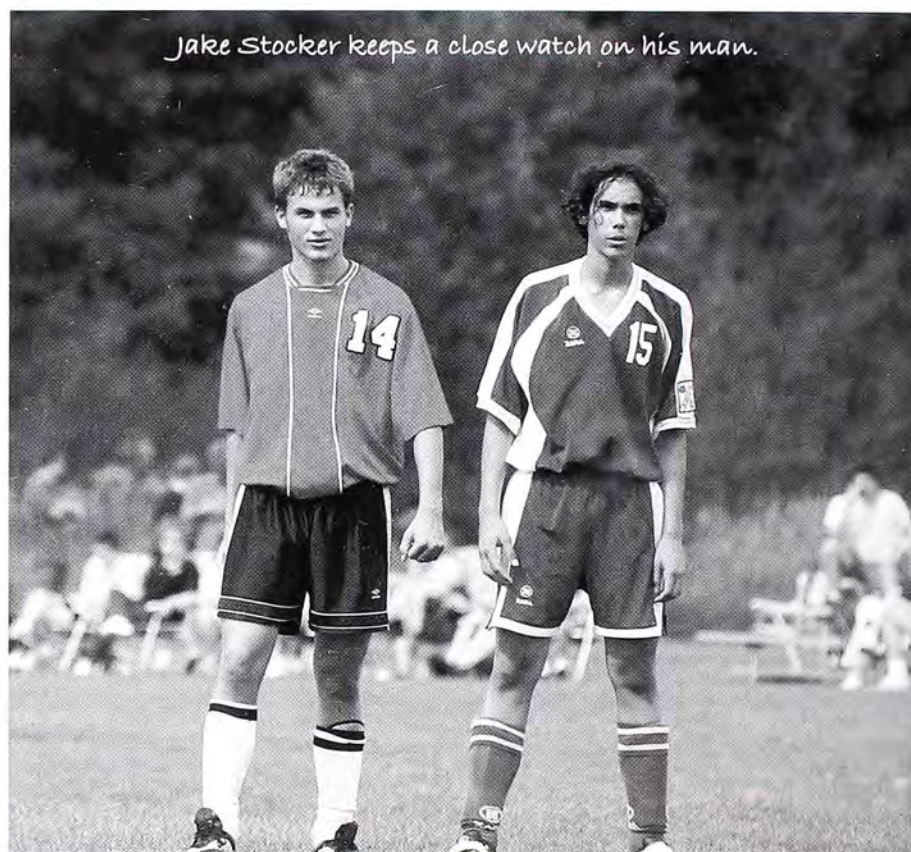

The JV soccer team ended the season 8-4-3. The team was led by a talented group of freshmen and featured a tenacious defense. The highlight of the season was a win against arch rival Dover. The second match against Dover ended in a tie only because Dover got a score on a penalty kick. Their record was good enough for them to claim the unofficial ECOL championship for JV teams.

Steven Bragg gets the ball around the defender.

Keeper Adam Daniel blocks the goal.

Paul Fuellner breaks for the goal.

Midfielder, Trey Overhault fights to get the ball.

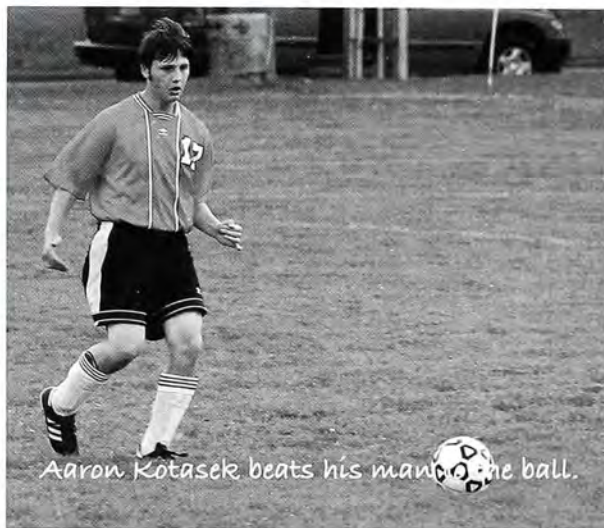

Forward, Jake Stocker heads the ball.

Aaron Sponseller moves the ball up field.

Wing, Justin Ellwood kicks for goal.

Defender, Pat Tucker clears the ball.

The Soccer team battled some tough out of league opponents and went undefeated in the league claiming the ECOL championship. The Quakers were led by junior stand out Andy Hicks who was named the ECOL player of the year, District player of the year, and 3rd team All State. Joining Andy with first team ECOL honors were Chad Dixon, Bronson Hawthorne, and Joel Liedtke. For the first time in recent memory, the matches with Dover were played in good weather under the lights with the Quakers prevailing both nights.

Working together is an important aspect of every sport. The JV team only played four games this year do to either rain or the other schools not having a JV team. The 2002 JV team went undefeated. Both the JV and Freshmen teams had great seasons this year. The Freshman team didn't go undefeated but did not fall far behind with only 2 losses. In years to come these two teams are sure to lead Phila to winning football seasons.

The 2002-2003 season brought in a whole new line-up of girls for the JV team. It was composed of mostly freshman and three sophomores. Instead of having a separate freshmen team, the underclassmen girls were combined to create a rather large junior varsity team. It was a change from previous years and created a new feeling among all participants. The team was very young and inexperienced, but as hoped, their skills improved throughout the season insuring a bright future for the New Philadelphia girls basketball program.

Coach Debbie Ketchum was hired as the new head coach and headed into the season with a list of new plays and goals. Each of the seniors contributed to the team in their own way. Anything from keeping the team focused on the floor, leading sing alongs on the bus ride home, to adding a little humor to everyday practices. Although the team did not have the season they had hoped for they made life long friends and memories that will never be forgotten.

VARSITY BASEBALL

With determination to win the E.C.O.L., the varsity baseball team set out with good spirits. They worked hard to accomplish their goals and strived to come out on top. The boys put a tremendous amount of dedication into the season. They practiced and lifted many hours to prepare for their competitive games. All the hard work paid off in the end. The 2003 varsity baseball team ended their season with a 21-6 record, and they were also E.C.O.L. champions. Coach Grimm was named ECOL coach of the year.

Michael Gardner hits the first home run of the year.

Justin Merryman stops the ball.

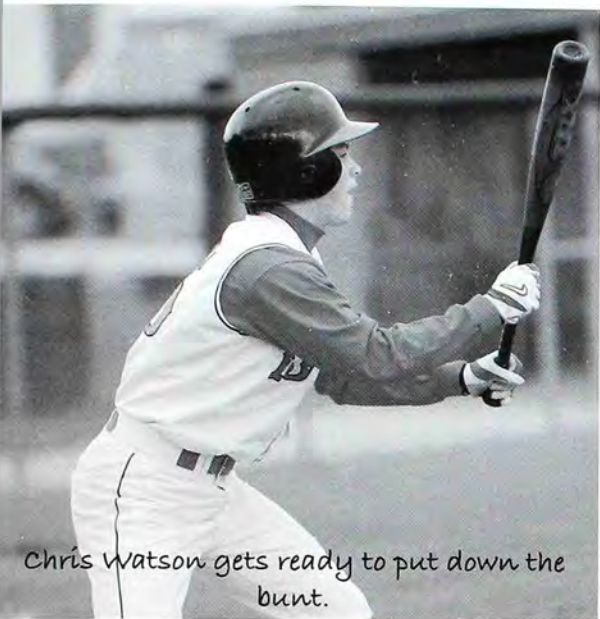

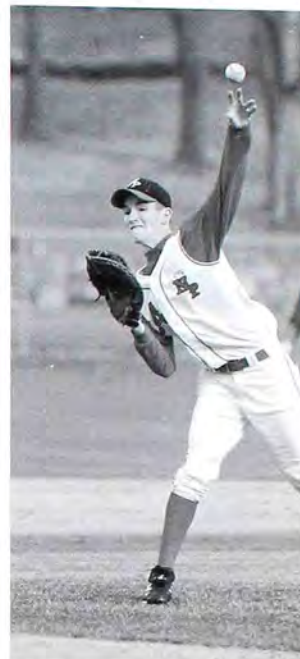

David Drabik reaches to make the catch.

Sign him up.

Lefty Justin Merryman fires one across the plate.

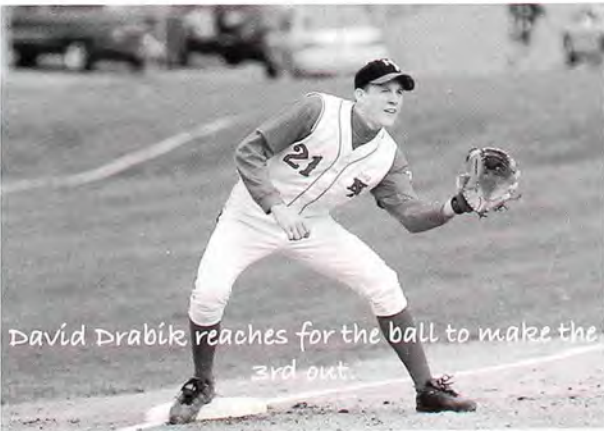

Chris Watson gets ready to put down the bunt.

Everyone gets ready to play ball!

Clint Wilson waits for his pitch.

Chris Watson hurries to first base.

David Drabik reaches for the ball to make the 3rd out.

Senior Shawn Patterson scoops up the ball.

The Quakers started out the season slow, but picked up the pace to end with an even 7-7 record. The team finished third in the ECOL, with Dover and Coshocton in front of them. Leading the Quakers were senior Andy Coutts and junior Ben Davis. Other varsity members were Adam Patterson, Nate Boone, Evan Chion, Tim Reiser, Andy Kilchenman, and Ryan Patterson. A highlight at the end of the season was Andy Coutts qualifying for the district tournament.

"Getting married to another staff member during the school year requires a lot of planning." - Mrs. Pry

We don't often think of our teachers as "people." The idea that two of our teachers were romantic is kind of weird. (It is kind of like thinking about your parents making out.) It was exciting to think that two of our favorite teachers found each other here at NPHS.

TOGETHER

"Sometimes poems explain things better" - Sara Daley

Life is unexplainable
 Sometimes good, sometimes bad
 You will always have your memories
 Some are happy, some are sad
 Waking up in the morning
 Not wanting to get out of bed
 You wished it was a weekend
 A Saturday instead
 School is the last place you want to be
 Exams, papers, and tests
 Worrying about what people are saying
 Wondering who's the best
 Practices and activities
 Taking up most of your day
 Wanting to go home so badly
 Never wanting to stay
 It's amazing how big of a challenge
 High School can actually be
 It's only our first year here
 The years we have left is three

Then comes graduation
 Soon we'll all be gone
 Sitting alone somewhere, someday
 Wondering what went wrong
 Why was high school such a struggle
 Why couldn't everyone have been friends
 Maybe people wouldn't have been so miserable
 Maybe it would have had a happy end
 What we need to realize is
 We need to make the best of our time
 We only have a short time together
 Together we have a mountain to climb
 This class needs to work with each other
 Pick someone up when they are down
 Later on in your short-lived life
 You'll wish they were around
 Make High School a memorable time
 Don't let it pass you by
 We'll do great things as a team
 Together we will fly

SOPHOMORES

2 DOWN, 2 TO GO!

"What summarizes our class is... Well what does it matter anyway?" - Britt Cramer

For some it was getting to play varsity basketball, for others it was going to see a favorite band play, and for the rest it was getting one year closer to graduation. Everyone in the sophomore class was truly their own unique person with his or her own personal attitude and quirks. Our class was a huge melting pot, made of all sorts of personalities and ambitions that made us who we were. Lots of sophomores were moved up to varsity status, which promised a lot of hope for our upperclass dreams in sporting events.

IT'S OUR TURN!

"I'm so excited to be able to help with prom this year" - Darcee Sulzener

After standing outside and watching all the people walk into prom since we were in middle school it was finally our turn to go to the big dance. This was the prom that we built. It really did give us a sense of accomplishment to go into an empty gym and transform it into a magical place. Standing side by side with our fellow classmates, some we didn't know that well before the prom, we worked as a team to complete all the things that needed to get done. There were some tears and a lot of laughter leading up to "our" prom.

LOOKING GOOD

"Placing all of the digital portraits into the senior section was tough." - Danya Rufener

In the past everything in the yearbook was 100% digital except for the senior section. The 2003 yearbook marked the first time that even the seniors were shot digitally. In an effort to have uniform backgrounds and head sizes Terry Barnhill from Mitchell's Studio took pictures of all of the seniors.

BUCKEYE CAREER CENTER

Choosing the career center gave students the best of both worlds. There were many different options, students could attend Buckeye all day or attend both Phila and Buckeye, each for half a day. They also got the opportunity to attend two proms, two graduations, meet double the people and make double the friends.

Josh Cunningham, Laura Baker, Allison Victor, Erica Yarnell, Sarah Markle, Ashleigh Dipietro along with the trumpets are the driving force of the symphony.

"Havendance"

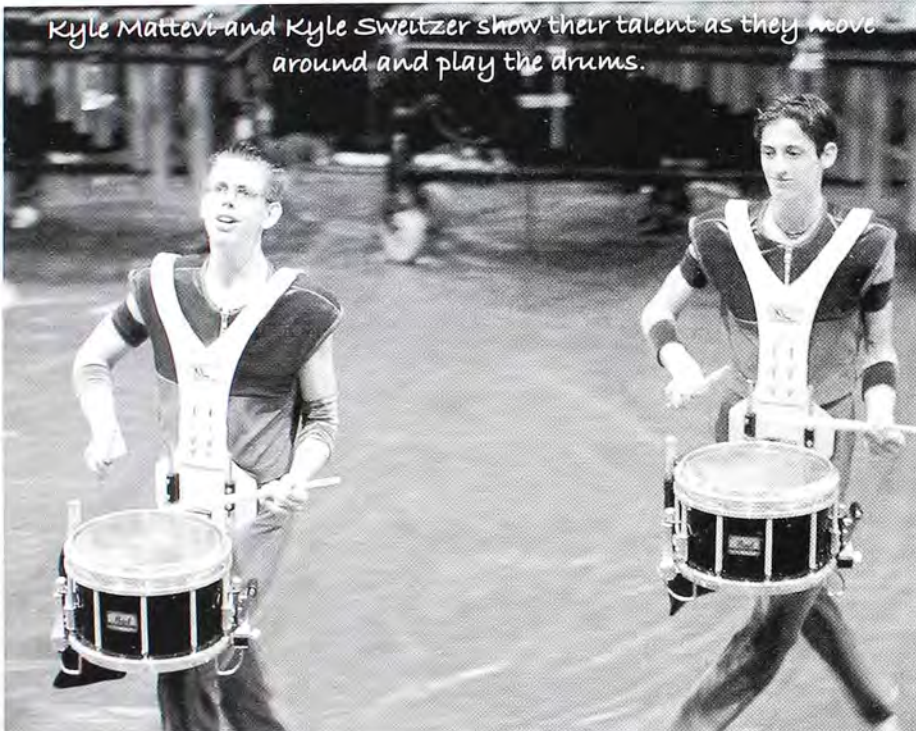

The Symphony Band took a chance on a contemporary piece by Holsinger called "Havendance". This piece was upbeat and required a great deal of practice by the members of the band. For listeners it was evident that the Symphony Band had captured the emotions envisioned by the composer. The Jazz band had a lot of fun playing "Sing Sing Sing" and the theme from Shaft.

Nic McCoy shows off his drums!

Purple Rain

The 2002 - 2003 drumline performed Prince's "Purple Rain", while the Kaleidoscope danced and spun to "Jupiter". Both groups went to Tennessee over the winter to perform at WGI Regional Championships. Both Drumline and Kaleidoscope traveled many times to Maimisburg. Kaleidoscope brought home a 1st place and Drumline brought back a 3rd place trophy after a competition at Maimisburg. Although there were many members of both groups leaving, they look forward to making new friendships, great life experiences, and many memorable moments. "For those who understand it, no explanation needed, and for those who don't understand it, no explanation possible!" Drumline!!

Very Fine

The annual fine arts show gave students a chance to show off their talents. Many of our most creative students spent hours in the art room or in the band room honing their skills. The fine arts show gave them a chance to show the public the results of their fine work. The artwork ranged from traditional things like water color landscapes, and self portraits to bizarre masks and eyeballs.

Class of 2003 On Track

On a sunny but windy June 1st the class of 2003 graduated at the stadium. The entire ceremony took place on the track because the field had just been repaired (again). Six salutatorians, Jillianne Armstrong, Michael Avon, Amanda Conklin, Michael Gardner, Kyle Phillips, and Amanda Reese and Valedictorian, Andrew Coultts all gave declamations.

Jessica S. Wear and Emily Henning are ready to go home.

Grand Finale

*Another year came to an end.
Memories of great times and friends.
Through times of grief and times of fun.
The class of 2003 was finally done.*

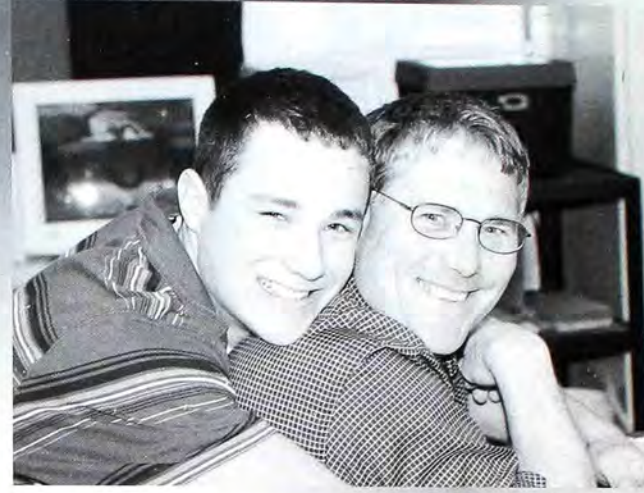

Sierra Sulzener and Eric Weisgarber discuss English notes.

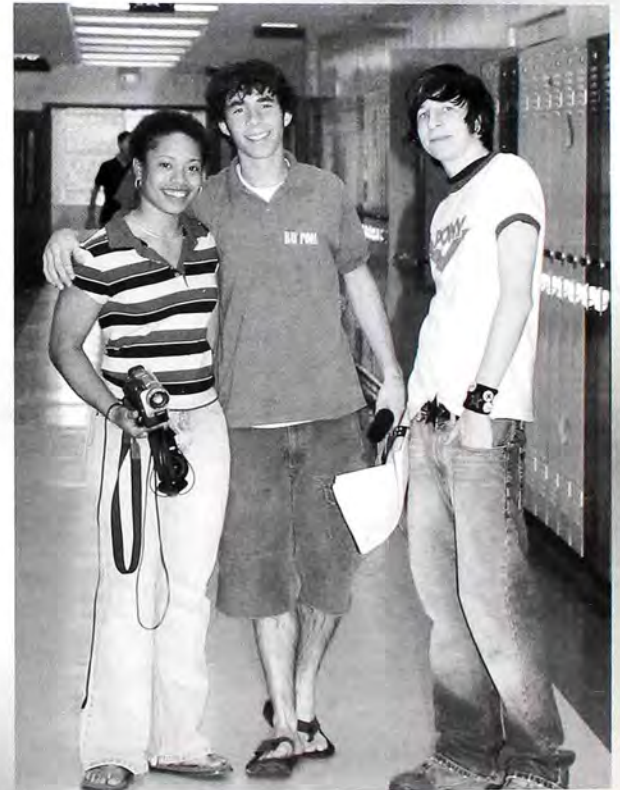

Sierra Sulzener and Eric Weisgarber finish swimming with ease.

Who knew Chase Hostetler and Mr. Rest were so close?

Lacey Sickinger thinks Eric Hershberger is up to something fishy.

Chynna Wright, Alex Walker and Jessie Wilson tape the morning announcements.

Seniors Eric Weisgarber, Nate Albury and Nick Daley hang out in halls instead of going to class.

2003 HighLites

A blink of the eye,
A snap of the shutter,
Fleeting moments of our life,
Captured here for eternity.

Congratulations Delphian Staff
