One and the Same

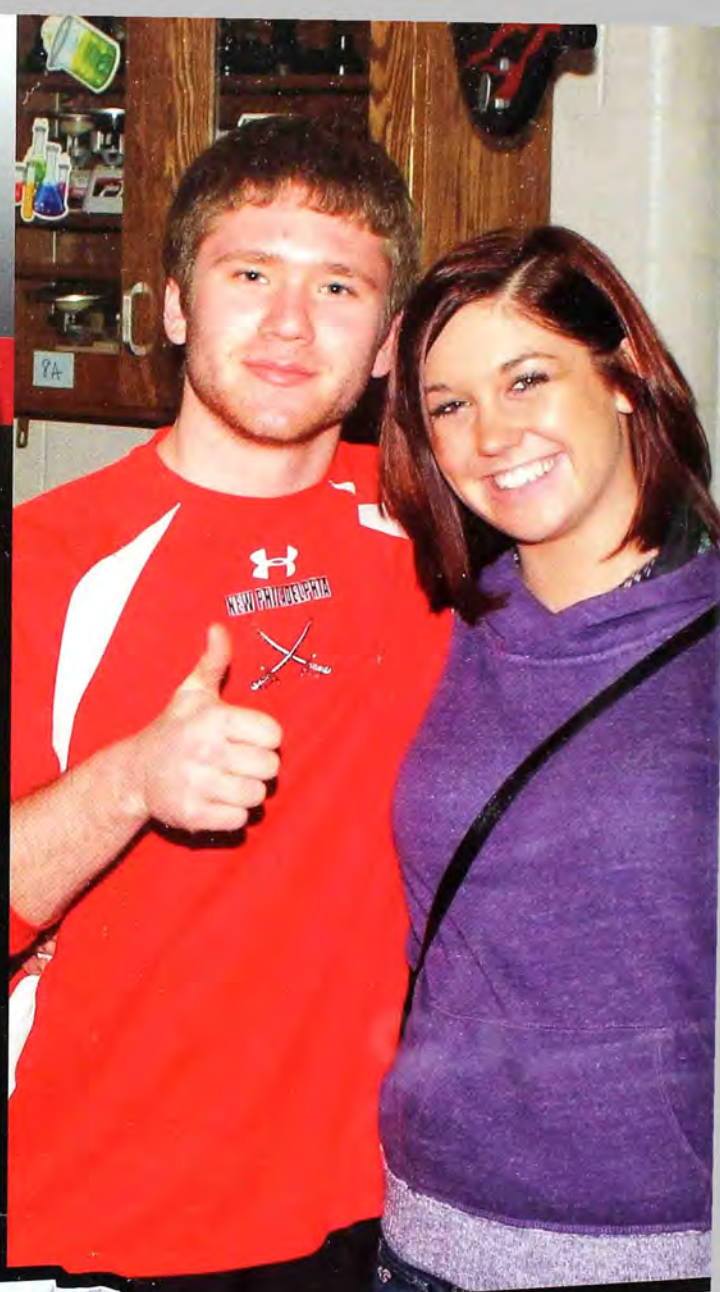

One hundred yearbooks, all different but somehow all the same. Back in 1913 the first book was named the "Corona". The first editor was Russell Exley, grandfather of our own Mr. Exley. Although styles have changed, our dreams and ambitions are really the same; the big game, the big dance. What did I get on my test? What does the future hold? These same thoughts have coursed through the minds of all of the students who walked the halls of New Philadelphia over these past hundred years.

Hundreds of moments and Memories

From early in the morning to late evenings something was always going on at NPHS. Everyone had a favorite class, a favorite teacher. Most of us enjoyed school. We didn't always like the homework or the pop quizzes but we understood why we had to do it. With all the different classes there was something for everyone. After 2:50 was when the real "fun" began. Games, dances, club activities, and practices gave us all something to do. It all added up to a lot of moments and memories.

1913-2013 ANNIVERSARY EDITION!

Heart of a Quaker

Through trials and tragedies we found ourselves cheering and crying together. When times were tough we proved that we could all come together for the "good of the cause". From riding imaginary roller-coasters to singing 'til we were hoarse we came together as one voice. We found solace and strength in the friendships we had formed through our years at NPMS. We may have looked different and listened to different music, travelled in different circles, but we found that in the end... We were all Quakers at heart.

SAMI, Taylor, and Sydney throw their hands in the air when the favorite song of the night "Gangnam Style" plays.

JUNIORS Mark Barrow and Chloe Barnett's favorite part of the dance, was slow dancing to "Wanted" by Hunter Hayes.

Day and Night Night and Day

The students of NPHS had a magical night at their annual Homecoming Dance. The gym was decorated in Disney decorations and when the lights turned off, glow sticks lit up the gym. It was the perfect mix of light and dark in the gym which made the students and the staff happy. Cassidy Argento was announced as Homecoming Queen at the football game the night before, and Nick German was crowned as King during the dance. Student Council provided drinks and snacks when students took a break from dancing, but few people wanted to leave the dance floor.

Phila/Dover Weeek

Filled with spirits

Flooded, even though it wasn't Halloween all week, the student's "spirits" came out and they dressed up to show their Quaker pride for Phila/Dover week. The Student Council voted on themes for each day that would represent a way to defeat Dover. To start the week out strong, Monday's theme was "Go Pro Over Dover." Students were to wear their favorite pro team attire. Tuesday's theme was "Beat Dover Right Meow" and everyone dressed up as cats. The theme for Wednesday was "Phila Saves The Day." Everyone dressed like superheroes. Thursday's theme was "Plow Over Dover" and the students wore their farmer outfits. To continue the tradition over the years, Friday was kept with "Red and Black Day."

STUDENTS from all grades participate in spirit week by dressing up as their favorite superheroes and "saving the day!"

MAKALA Simpson's camo hat, flannel shirt, and overalls make for a great farmer outfit.

SENIORS Cassy Kopp and Ashley Fox get involved with their final spirit week.

United We Stand

From tutus to zombies, everybody had a part in the annual Phila/Dover Community Pep Rally. There was a whole new spin this year where the Sha-na-na-na-na song was changed to a chant that was led by senior, Jesse Kandel. The football team asked the senior class to join them in the center of the floor to partake in the chant. Before every game the football team would use this chant as motivation throughout the season. For the first time, it wasn't just a football pep rally it was a school pep rally.

Back and Forth One Play Away

A fast start wasn't enough to ensure a Quaker victory. The Quakers jumped out to an early lead but the Tornadoes were able to chip away, leaving the score tied twenty-one all at the half. Each team took turns scoring in the second half, but with the score tied and time running out, Dover was able to connect on a desperation field goal to upset Quaker hopefuls. Ending the game 35-32, the Quakers walked off the field with their heads held high, knowing even though they had lost to their rivals, they still had earned a spot in the playoffs.

FRESHMAN, Spencer Morgan, the horse trainer sports a beard.

SYDNEY Jefferies jumps into Kayla's arms when a mouse is discovered.

TAYLOR Rummies and Logan Fadeley were pals on and off the stage.

HorsePlay Caught in the Act

The High School put on their version of the play Straight from the Horse's Mouth by Pat Cook. The "farce" was based on a real estate office which accidentally buys a horse trainer and his horse. One of the unique practices for the cast was before every practice they did a warm-up exercise in which they had to act out being different animals. The leading roles were played by Lydia Kneuss (Katy Biddlemyer), and Logan Fadeley (Clement Caligence). "Hank and I had to kiss during the performance, and it was awkward at first. It is weird having to practice kissing," said Senior Lydia Kneuss. Featuring a large cast everyone was impressed that not one person forgot a line.

On The Court For A Cause

The Student Staff Basketball Game was held on Wednesday, November 21, 2012. It was the day before Thanksgiving break and all of the students were pumped up and ready to see some of their favorite teachers out on the court. Along with the basketball game, there was also a "Pie In The Face" contest held between some of the teachers. Students put money in the jar for the teacher that they wanted to be pied. All the money raised went to the Share A Christmas fund that the school participates in each year. Even though the teachers suffered a few losses that day, they came out winners and defeated the students over all.

Posing for The Camera

It's what we do!!

Instead of the traditional smiling at the camera, students started new trends when a camera was pointed at them. Many teens made weird faces or strange poses. One common pose is holding up a peace sign. What is the reason behind this? Do they really want peace? We may never know why teenagers have to pose for the camera instead of just smiling. These so called "Posers" will look back and either regret not smiling, or laugh at how they used to be. Even though these trends will fade, the moments captured will always make people laugh.

JAMAL has no problem in front of a crowd.

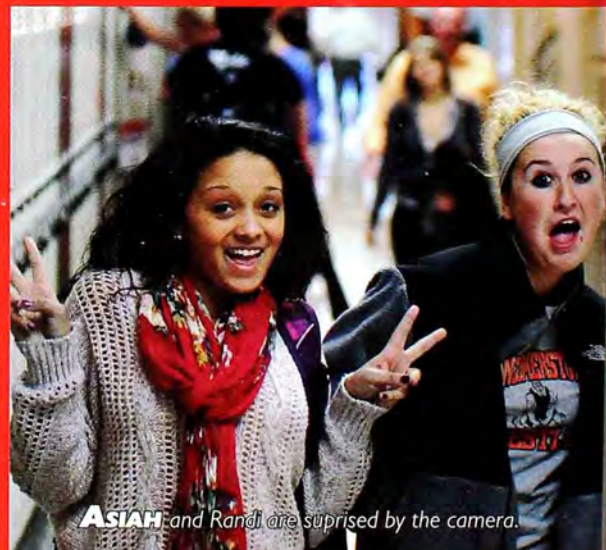

ALYSHIA always knows where the camera is.

HEAVY METAL

Creating music from everything.

Music can be made from just about anything and the band proved it with their original idea of using metal items of all sorts for their performance. From chains to pipes the marching band incorporated anything metal for their show "Metallic." The show was a hit! They placed Superior in state, made the finals at regionals and then moved on to Nationals placing 30th. Beginning in the summer and teasing the crowd during halftime, the band unleashed the full performance at halftime of the Phila Dover game.

COURAGE & CONCENTRATION

Cross Country and Golf are made for athletes, not spectators.

The Girls Golf team and Cross Country team both had a great season! The Girls Golf team finished their season 6 and 10, with the top player being Rachel Leggett. For Cross Country their top runner was Hannah Hixenbaugh, who won the Eastern District Track and Cross Country Association Athlete of the year. They also ended their season great. Even though both teams had their ups and downs they stayed strong and held the team together.

DRIVING TO A VICTORY

Quaker Golf Swings to Victory

Golf takes a lot of mental preparation. Walking onto a different course can be a challenge, Senior Taylor Enama recalled, "During the rides to away games, we helped each other improve by talking about the challenges we would face on the course for that day." Because the boy's golf team played in a lot of tournaments their overall record ended 73-76. They finished 5th in the ECOL.

BEAT THE CLOCK

Everyday the opponent is the same.

In most sports it is all about beating the opponent. Although this is true for cross country runners, they also competed every day against the clock, trying to make themselves better. The team expanded to 14 members who knew that everyday would be filled with what seemed to be endless running. Although they didn't always achieve the results that they desired, the real victory for them was when they watched each other improve time wise. The team was a nice balance of young and old legs in which the freshmen looked up to the senior runners: Patrick Snead, Jonathon Parks, and Aaron Baumgardner.

SCORING GOALS

And accomplishing them, too.

The Lady Quakers put a lot of time and hard work into pre-season practices, two-a-days, and scrimmages during the off season to really surprised everyone by ending their season with a record of 7-8-2! They beat Riverview for the first time in four years and tied Dover 3-3 to end their regular season. In tournaments, they made it to sectional finals, being only the second team in school history to make it so far. "I couldn't have asked for better teammates to spend my senior year with! I'm so proud of each and every girl as well as the team as a whole; we worked so hard, every day, to get as far as we did. We really were one big family out there! I'll never forget all the crazy games we made up on the bus during those long away game rides!" -Captain, Taylor Phillips

LEAVING OUR MARK

I believe!

The boys had almost all first-time varsity players and played one of the most difficult schedules in the school's history. Despite that, they never stopped improving their skills. The strong brotherhood that formed throughout the season resulted in a bond that will never be broken. ON AND OFF THE COURT

The girls made tennis a "team" sport.

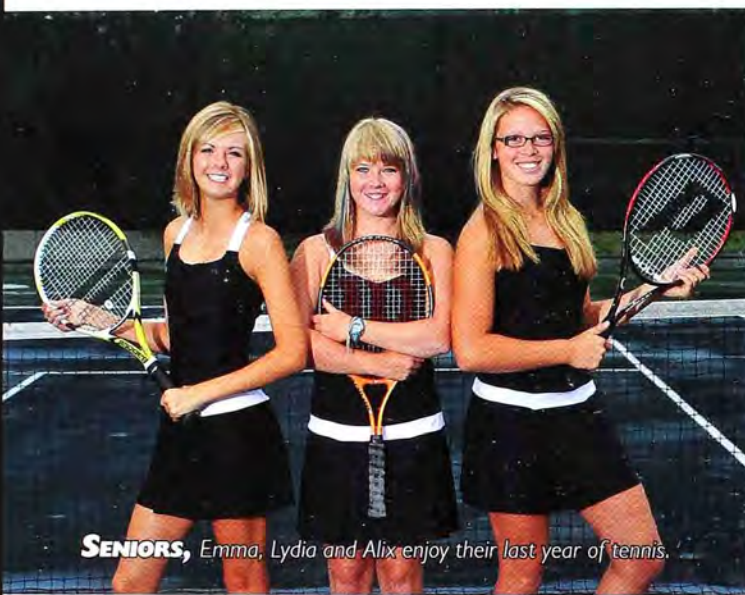

After a long, hard season the girls finished off the year with a record of 11-5. Senior Alix Stein was named ECOL player of the year, and senior Emma Weaver was ECOL honorable mention. For the team it was more than just tennis, they gathered for a halloween party and also got together for movies and popcorn. With only 3 seniors the relatively young squad was still able to finish 2nd in the ECOL.

CHEYANNE Shook returns the serve to win the match.

PLAYER of the year in the ECOL Alix Stein was undefeated in the league.

SENIORS, Emma, Lydia and Alix enjoy their last year of tennis.

KATIE McKnight jumps back to hit the ball at an afternoon practice

JOSIE Waugh hits the ball scoring the first point.

RACHEL Pisony looks back to watch her teammate hit the ball and score!

MAKING HISTORY

Quaker Volleyball earns title of District Champions.

All season the girls followed the theme "Finish Strong". Despite much adversity and many injuries the girls ended with a 20-6 record and 2nd place in the ECOL. At the end of the season, they earned rewarding victories against Dover on Senior Night, and against River View and Indian Creek in tournaments, three teams that had beaten them earlier in the season. With a trip to regionals, they made it farther than any other team in Quaker volleyball history.

VOLLEYBALL FRONT: Taylor McCartney, Sam Bower, ROW 2: Josephine Feik, Marissa Moore, Lauren Trimmer, BACK: Coach Pry, Hunter Goudy, Sara Gerber, Taylor Affolter, Taylor Willis, Laini Leindecker, Abby Hammary, Taryn Davis

MARISSA led the team in points and received Honorable Mention for ECOL & District 5.

SENIORS Sara & Sam put up a tough block to prevent their opponents from scoring. Sam was 2nd Team District 5 & ECOL.

TAYLOR Affolter sets her 1,000th career assist. Taylor earned 1st team ECOL and 2nd team District 5 awards.

LAINI was named 1st Team District 5 & ECOL, Player of the Year for District 5 & ECOL, and 1st Team All-Ohio.

JOSEPHINE led the team in serving with 80 aces for the season.

Quaker Swimming

The Quaker Swim Team had a successful season, not only with scores but as a team all together. Although there were few seniors to lead the team, the swimmers still caught on fast. For example, dropping time is a big deal and hard to do but every meet they continued to drop time. According to Coach Taylor Harrison, "The swimmers had a new two-a-days work out that took place over Christmas Break while everybody else was enjoying their sleep." To end the season strong NPHS attended sectionals and districts. At sectionals girls placed 6th and boys placed 9th. At districts 9 boys advanced and 5 girls advanced.

RESPECT AND PRIDE

The importance of family!

The JV Girls Basketball team fought along side the Varsity Girls Basketball team bringing home a lot of Quaker pride. The JV team was like one big family because they did everything together like praying before every game. Also, after a big win they would go out to dinner. The team was like a family because like family they never left a player behind under any circumstances. According to Nichole Stevenson, "The reason NPHS has a JV team is so that the girls can practice for Varsity later on down the road. Also it helps them understand the meaning of family and playing your part on and off the court." The Jv girls record was 15-5. The JV team showed great pride and respect to their coaching staff and others at NPHS.

FIGHTING FOR...

Wins and the Cause

Fight! The Lady Quakers fought for respect, pride and the cause. The word fight meant to never give up even when things looked gray on and off the court. The team fought for every win and fought for a cause bigger than them. To honor and support the cause, the team got new warm ups colored pink, for breast cancer, and purple, for pancreatic cancer. The Lady Quakers also raised money with the Dover basketball team for breast cancer. The Quakers went out almost every night fighting and putting their hearts on the floor to bring home a win. One of their biggest and best games was the Dover game when the two teams met for the first time in the season. The girls stayed focused on doing the little things and most importantly beating their rivals. The Lady Quaker Basketball team finished their season with a record of 11-10. These Lady Quakers stayed strong and fought through the whole season.

LEAVING A MARK

Quaker Basketball makes it into the Elite 8.

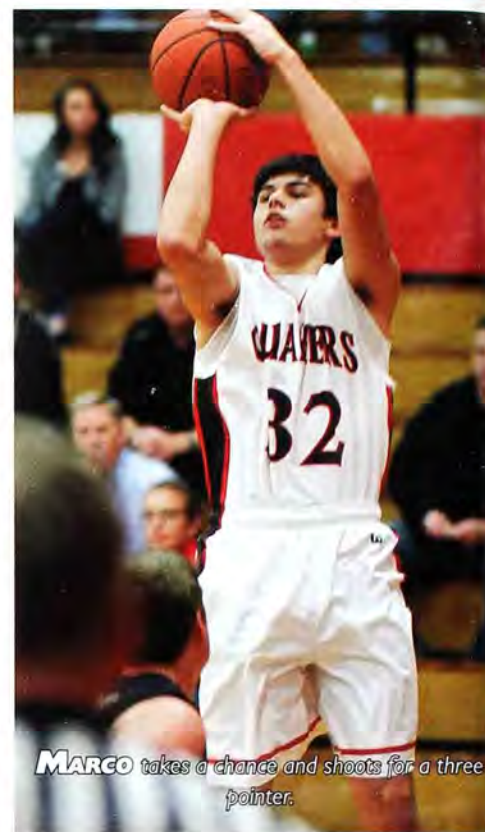

The Boys Varsity Basketball team played a remarkable season with a young team. They had no seniors so it was up to the juniors to step up. Coach Spurgeon led the team to some great wins including a rout of rival Dover. The team made it to Regionals at the end of their season. They played at Ohio University, and their fans tagged along to join in the excitement. The team played and made their hometown proud. For the second year in a row the team made it to the elite eight missing a trip to State on a last second shot by their regional final opponent Vincent Warren.

PASSING THE BATON

Girls Track finds strength in relays.

Without any superstar the girls relied on having strong relay teams. The team was made up mostly of underclassmen with only a few juniors, and two seniors: Lauren Amstutz and Laini Leindecker. The girls got 5th at the ECOL championship and the 4x8 relay team made it to regionals along with Hunter Goudy in the high jump.

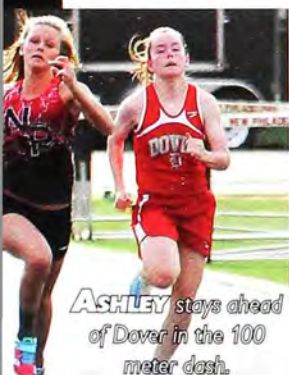

SOPHOMORE Hannah Dennison runs the second leg of the 4x2.

ABBY Dennison runs a strong 200 in the 4x2.

JUNIOR Lauren Trimmer pushes her hardest in the 100 hurdles.

ASHLEY stays ahead of Dover in the 100 meter dash.

REGIONAL Qualifier Hunter Goudy clears the bar in the high jump.

STACY Espenschied throws in disc.

CHAMPIONSHIP SEASON

Quakers Rack up the hardware.

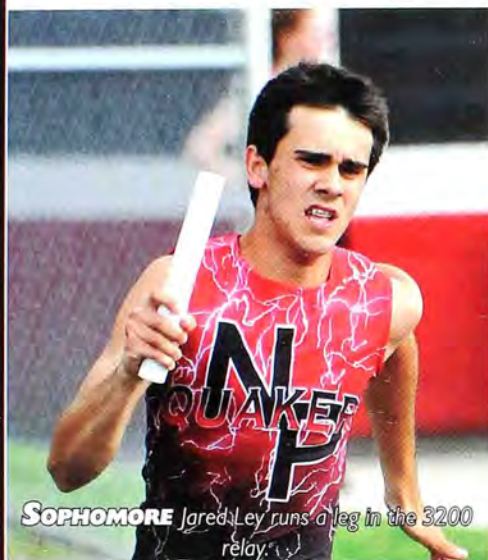

From the first meet when the team finish runner-up at the Arthurs Invite the team and coaches knew it would be a special season. They went on to become the Meadowbrook Inv. and Gundy Champions and were runners-up at their own mini-relays. The focus all season was on doing their best and at the ECOL the team was able to claim a co-championship of the big school division. All of this without having one ECOL champion.

Not only did Justin Ward run the 100 and 200 he also led off the 4x1 and 4x2.

GREG Cunningham runs his way to victory.

SOPHOMORE Jared Ley runs a leg in the 3200 relay.

Tom Jennings gives everything he has to throw the shot as far as he can.

WINNING WAYS

Baseball finds ways to win.

Big hearts and loud fans filled the Quaker baseball diamonds at Varsity, JV, and Freshmen baseball games. With a rough season the boys appreciated all the fans that continued to show support. Seniors, Adam Her-shberger, Hunter Joseph, Dakota Hill, Hunter May, Jesse Kandel, and Brennen Flores worked to set an example for the younger players. Varsity ended their season with a record of 14-13 and were out of the tournament when they lost to Morgan 2-3. Junior Varsity ended their season with an awesome record of 14-6. The freshmen ended their season with a record of 7-7. With all of the rain in the beginning of the season the team had to practice at the dome or on the turf.

SENIOR Hunter Joseph throws the ball back to the pitcher.

Varsity huddles around the pitching mound to set the defense.

JEREMY Long has the runner on base.

DANCING TO THE TOP

QT Dance Team

The QT dance team danced their way to the top of the competition this year. They dominated at Regionals and made it all the way to the State Competition at Ohio State where they placed second! But no matter where the location was, the QT's captivated their audience from the beginning to the end. They pumped up the student body at the homecoming and Dover-Phila pep-rallies, and danced their hearts out in the snow and rain at football games.

LEADERS ON THE SIDELINES

Quaker Freshmen and Junior Varsity Cheerleading

The Freshmen and JV squad were in charge of pumping up the crowd on the sidelines! The JV squad cheered at every home varsity game and then had to wake up the next morning and travel to an away JV game. Cheering two games a week was extremely time-consuming but in the end their hard work paid off when they placed at the annual ECOL competition; Freshmen won 2nd place and JV won 3rd place.

110 ALL THE WAY!

Quaker Varsity Cheerleading

Every game the Varsity cheerleaders would start out with a group cheer motivating them to give 110%. And all throughout the year that was exactly what they did! Whether it was running the flags at a football game, getting the school pumped at a pep rally, or cheering on the basketball team, the cheerleaders were giving their all! And not only they did they place 3rd in their ECOL competition, they made it past regionals to make it to the state competition at Ohio State University!

We might try to use some technology or find some new interesting information for our classes." Every few weeks, the social studies teachers work together to think of material that will help the students learn the history that changes every day. At NPHS, it's the staff's first priority to keep the lessons up to date.

English has been a part of the NPHS academics for 100 years. Even though the time period seems ancient, some things remained the same in the English department. According to Mrs. Dillehay, "When I attended NPHS, the English requirement was still four credits to graduate. The biggest difference between the English graduate requirements in 1970 and the 2013 English graduate requirements are the different options that were offered within the English Curriculum. We could design our own path to completing all four English credits." Although many things remained the same there were still a few changes to the English department. For example the English department used to focus more on grammar rather than reading novels. The past English requirements have helped shape a better English department today.

Music Marathon

As marching season concluded, the music did not stop. Throughout the whole year, students that walked the hall near the gym lobby, heard music at all times. The only thing that really changed were the instruments. Instruments that were not used on the marching field but were used indoors include trombones, bassoons, oboes, and concert french horns. As a celebration NPHS put on a Music Marathon. Students received pledges and played music for 14 hours straight from 7a.m.-9p.m. Altogether they raised $2,500 that went towards new ploomms.

It's A Centennial

One of the hardest things about yearbook was coming up with the theme. The theme always tries to thread the book together. We knew that we wanted to make a book that honored the 100th anniversary. The Delphian has been around for exactly 100 years and the staff wanted to make sure that it was known. With 16 staff members it was one of the largest yearbook staffs. The book converted to a new computer system and it created a lot of growing pains but the staff adapted.

STUDENT COUNCIL

At New Philadelphia High School, the staff works hard to make sure that students have a chance to take part in Student Council. Every year, Student Council raises money for numerous causes, like Cystic Fibrosis. Also, Student Council holds and sponsors many of the school's activities, such as Homecoming. The program doesn't just raise money. For Share-A-Christmas, Student Council encouraged students at NPHS to bring in clothing items for the under privileged in our community. "Keeping kids involved and wanting to contribute to the community and school is the hardest part of being a Student Council advisor," Mrs. Miller said. Each year, Student Council does amazing things for the community.

Buckeye Career Center

Juniors and Seniors from every district come together to pursue one of many tech programs. Buckeye Career Center assisted many students in their chosen career path by constructing specific skills they need to obtain in the future. Buckeye offers medical, technical, and computer programs, as well as apprenticeships. A current student, Mackenzie Brown said, "They recently just added a new tech program which is sports medicine. It is really challenging but I really feel like it's going to prepare me for my future career as a physical therapist." Students also have the opportunity to associate with new people, but get a jump start to the career they want to pursue. Many students also get a job straight after high school based on what they've learned at BCC. This provides a great opportunity for students that don't plan on going to college.

BRENT Vickers and Justin Stevenson explains what they have learned in class.

Vocal Music

For the past 100 years, choir has been a way to display our voices in a creative outlet. The members of the Delphian Chorale continued their tradition of the singing Valentines. In March, all of the choir students came together with the 5th graders in the high school gym to sing "This Little Light of Mine" in an impromptu concert. The concert featured all five of the different choirs. Choir has been a major part of our school throughout the years. It broadens a student's ability to express themselves in a creative way, and makes other people's day a little brighter.

Spring Musical

You're A Good Man Charlie Brown is a 1967 classical musical comedy. The directors picked this musical because it was a play everyone knows including families with children of all ages. Starring in the musical was Logan Fadeley as Charlie Brown, Elle Stokey as Snoopy, Ireland Thurston as Lucy, Alex Wortman as Schroeder, Hayley Jo Thacker as Sally and Spencer Morgan as Linus. According to Hayley Jo

Thacker the cast did special traditions before every show like praying. The cast worked extremely hard on stage and behind stage. Behind the curtains a special team worked hard to make sure the props were ready for every scene. Without these back stage workers the musical wouldn't go on.

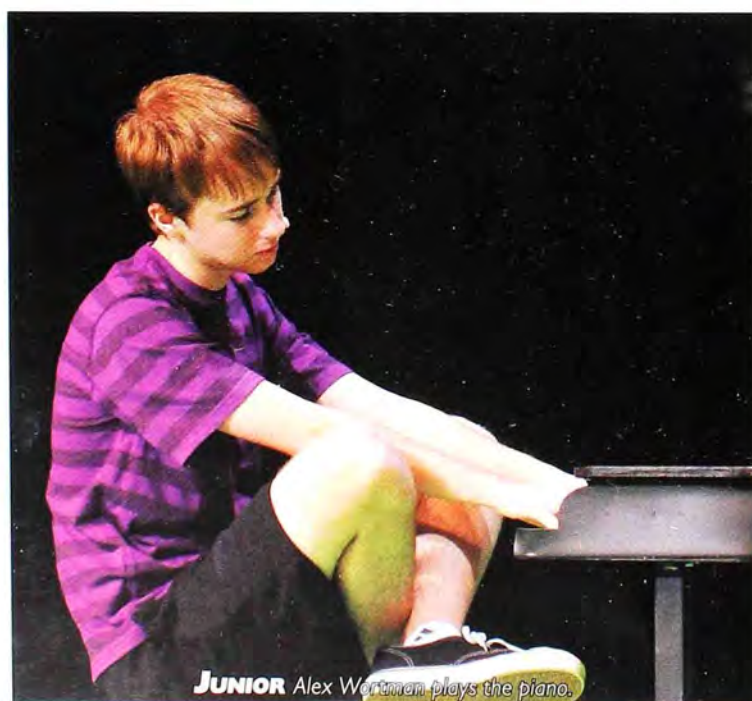

Advisors: Mr. Exley

THE cast sings together how good Charlie Brown is.

IRELAND Thurston counts the number of words in her book report.

JUNIOR Alex Wortman plays the piano.

SOPHOMORE Hayley Thacker and Junior Elle Stokey go looking for rabbits.

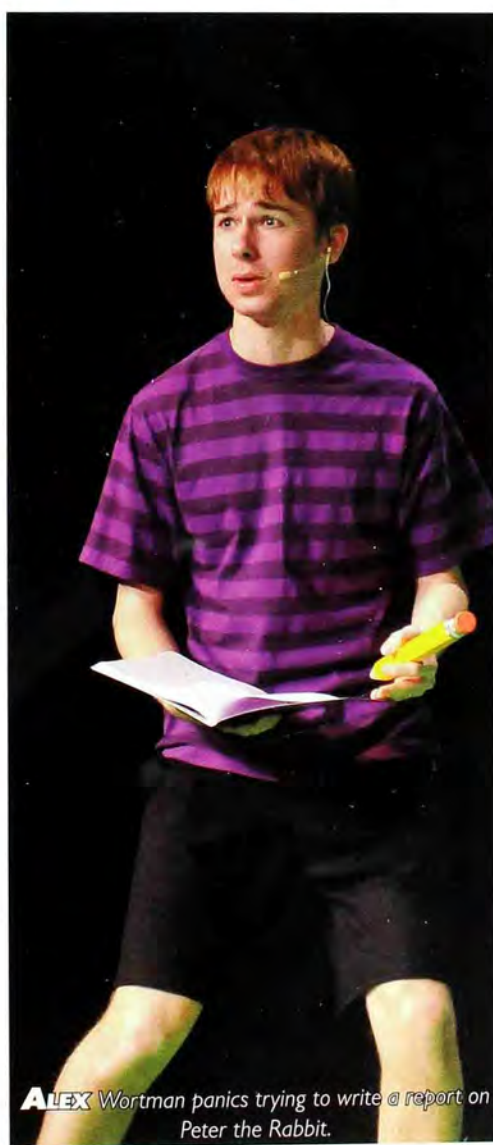

JUNIOR Ireland Thurston tries to explain the design of a dress to Hayley Jo Thacker.

FRESHMAN Spencer Morgan hugs his blanket promising to never leave it again.

ALEX Wortman panics trying to write a report on Peter the Rabbit.

IRELAND Thurston gives Logan Fedeley advice.

ELLE, Logan and Hayley Jo dance and sing with their blankets.

SPENCER Morgan finds out that he has lost his taste.

SOUNDS OF SPRING

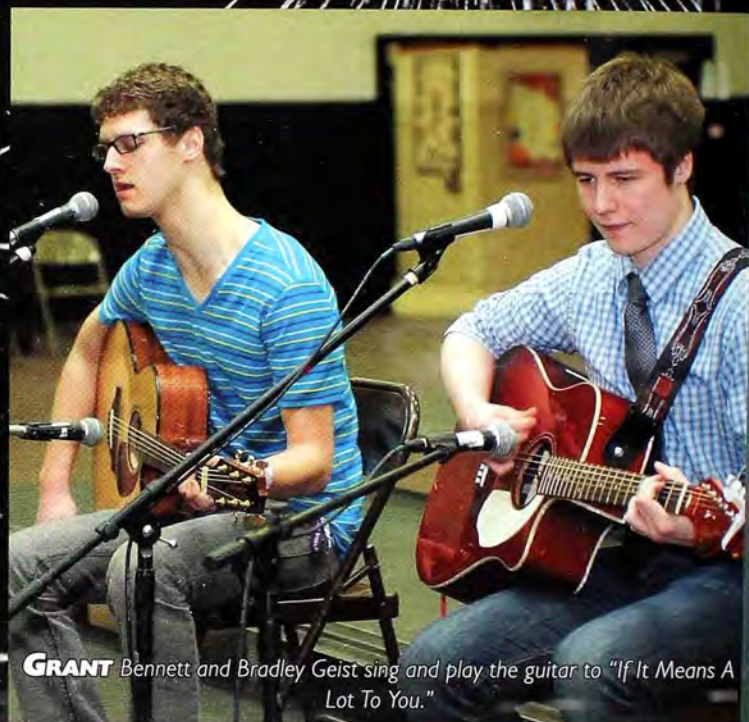

As a treat before leaving for Spring Break students gathered in the gym for the annual talent show. Ethan Ault wowed the judges with his flute solo, Sydney Jeffries showed her dance moves and earned second place while Grant Bennett and Bradley Geist won third place by singing a duet. They were judged based on presentation, clarity, difficulty, and overall effect. Key Club also got into the spirit of things and held a fundraiser for Stacia Eckhardt who is battling Cystic Fibrosis. They sold raffle tickets and the lucky winners received baskets full of different prizes. In addition to the talented acts and filled baskets, Mrs. Schumacher revealed herself as the bunny who threw the students candy before the winners of the talent show were announced.

SARA Gerber sings "Dream" while G Moody accompanies her by playing the guitar.

FIRST place winner, Ethan Ault, performs "Density 21.5" on his flute.

GRANT Bennett and Bradley Geist sing and play the guitar to "If It Means A Lot To You."

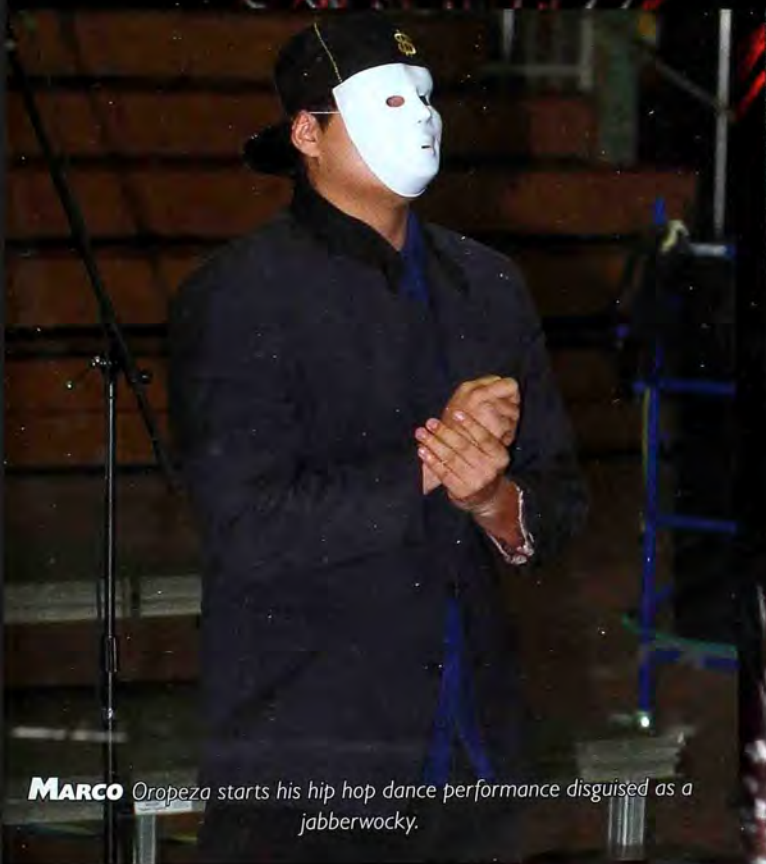

RUNNER up, Sydney Jeffries begins her dance in front of the entire school

ZAC Kepp rocks out on the Marimba!

THE winners receive their prizes and pose for a picture.

KATIE McKnight plays a medley of songs on the piano.

SOPHOMORE, Kyle Harris, sings "This is Me."

EMMA Mulvaney sings "Dirty Paws" and plays the guitar.

THE judges, Mrs. Prucha, Mr. Daniels, and Mr. Rippeth, write down the scores after each act.

CASSIDY Argento and Jacob Flood are announced as Prom Queen and King.

THE crowd goes crazy when the DJ starts playing music and the lights go off!

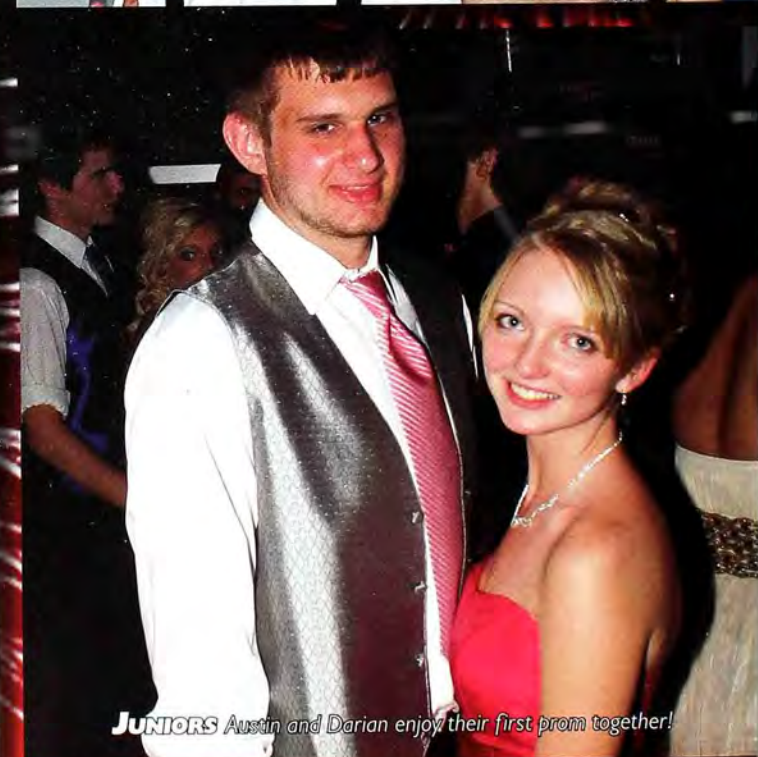

ETHAN, Katelyn, Casey, and Alyshia take a quick drink break.

HALEY and Joe walk down the stairs to the dance.

DAYNA, Johnathan, and Craig are having a great time on the dance floor!

JUNIORS Austin and Darian enjoy their first prom together!

A NIGHT AT THE OSCARS

Prom stayed in New Philadelphia for the first time in multiple years and was held at Kent State Performing Arts Center. Walk-ins were also held there so students were able to walk right into the dance. The theme was A Night at The Oscars and it wasn't hard to feel like a celebrity after getting to walk down a red carpet for walk-ins, and watch the sunset through the foyer windows. At the dance, tables were set up for students to take a break from the dance floor and they had waiters serving drinks throughout the night to cool down. Students received a snow globe as they were leaving with a picture of the Performing Arts Center in it so they would never forget the night!

LEXI and Tanesha stop for a picture on the stairs.

GRANT brings back girlfriend Sarah for his junior prom.

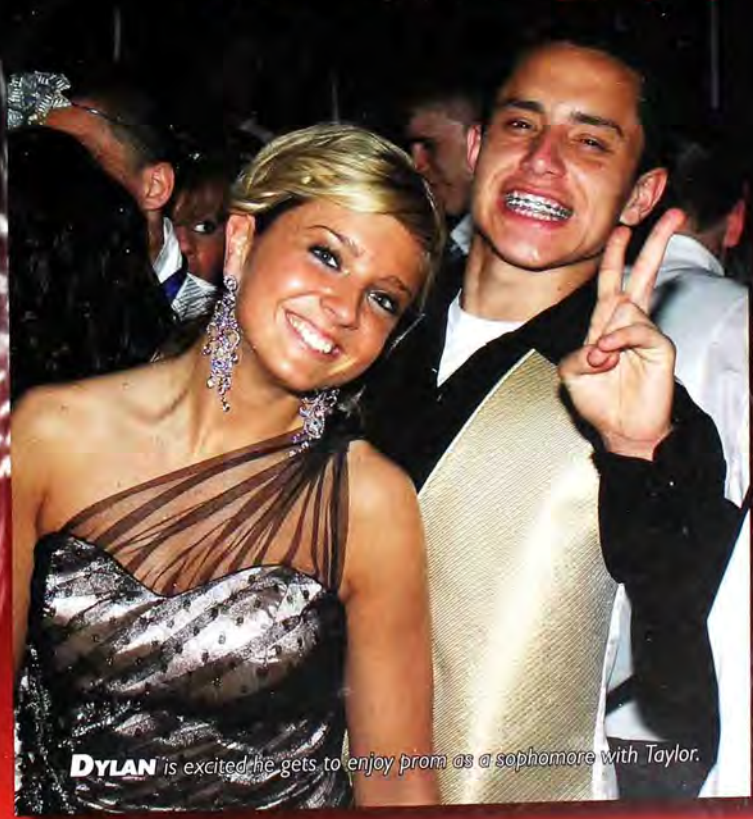

SENIORS Ashley Mizer and Blair McClain walk into the PAC together.

TAYLOR McCartney and Bradley Geist share a laugh at their last high school dance together.

MARK and Sydney relax at a table while taking a break from the dance floor.

DYLAN is excited he gets to enjoy prom as a sophomore with Taylor.

THE AFTER PARTY

After spending a night at The Performing Arts Center the students returned to the High School for post-prom. Students could play games on the inflatables, take pictures in the photo-booth, or play mini games to win tickets. Parents helped keep the games running smoothly by telling students how to play and giving the winners however many tickets they won. The tickets were placed in drawings to win awesome prizes like a mini-fridge, camera, TV, Indians baseball tickets, gift certificates to fast food places, and more! Not only could students play games, but they also got to enjoy free tacos and free smoothies that were provided by the Junior Class.

JUSTIN Ward falls down on the bouncy inflatable.

PATRICK Snead, Hunter Goudy and Brooke Davis talk about which game they want to play next.

ZACK Rhodes is determined to win in the obstacle course!

HUNTER Joseph and Steph Sopher laugh at their friends while they bounce on inflatable horses.

DIMITRI Walker enjoys his free smoothie at post-prom.

MEGHAN Frantz and Bryan Herschel are glad they get to spend their evening together.

COLLIN Getz tries to win a mini game and get tickets.

CHLOE Barnett and Mark Barrow race each other on the wii.

RANDI Morrison makes her way to the top of the rock wall.

LYDIA Kneuss carefully decides which bucket to place her tickets in.

MITCHELL Pape is jacked he won a prize at post-prom!

ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENTS

On a rainy April day, students and parents gathered in the middle school auditorium to watch students receive recognition for all of their hard work. The ceremonies were split into two groups, the freshman and sophomores and the juniors and seniors. Students of all grades were recognized for perfect attendance and their academic achievements. Seniors were presented with their cords and a select few received Quaker Foundation Scholarships.

FOURTH year Academic Letterman Aaron Baumgardner, accepts his plaque.

ALEX Wortman receives his academic pin from Mrs. Westbrook.

SAM Banks thanks Mr. Stetz for his Academic Letter.

MRS. Claxon awards Sammie Glazer her scholarship.

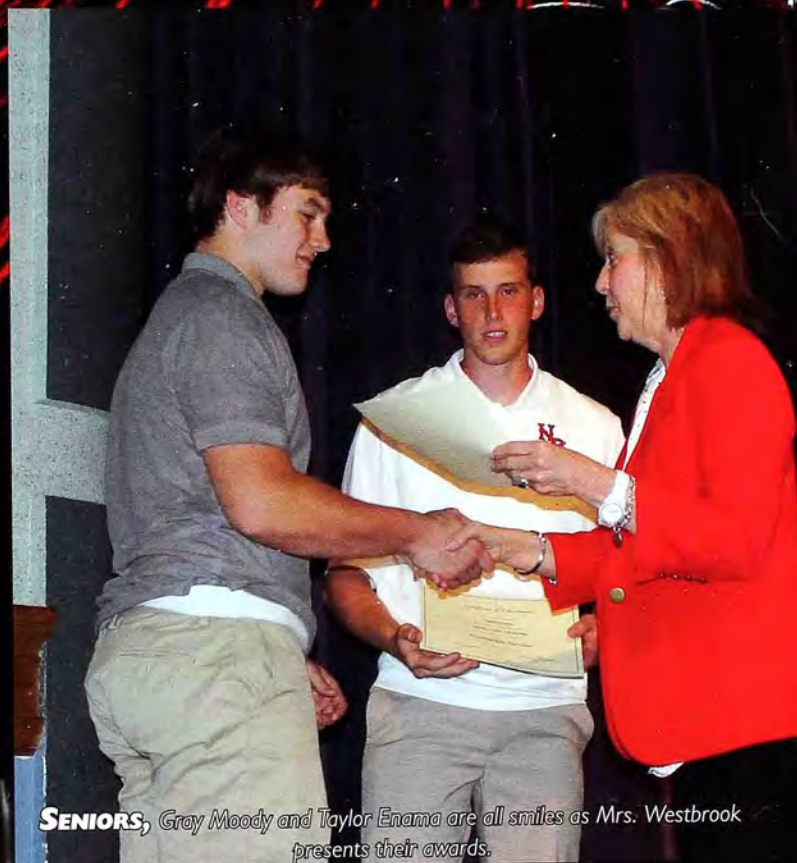

SOPHOMORES take a break for a quick picture after receiving their awards.

JONATHAN Busch receives his award from Mrs. Claxon.

LAURA and Andy accept their scholarships.

SENIORS, Gray Moody and Taylor Enama are all smiles as Mrs. Westbrook presents their awards.

FRESHMAN Seth Mears, Brandon Furbay, and Cameron Free take a moment after the award ceremony to pose for some photos.

Cooler Graduation

For an evening in late May the graduation was unusually cool. Class President Nick German reminisced about the success of the class, while Iaini Leindecker spoke of living in the "Impact Zone". Aaron Baumgardner concluded the speeches with a fun filled reminder of the importance of being an individual.

*Congratulations Lefthand Staff
